

Fonthill Men Cook Breakfast In Park, But Wives Clean Up

By ALICE PERKIN

All wives will agree that this is a wonderful plan! The husbands cooked the breakfast at a family party held last week end at El Retiro Park, by some of the neighbors on Fonthill.

Stacks of hotcakes, scrambled eggs, savory bacon, juice and coffee made up the menu served to the wives, on the condition that the wives clean up afterwards.

Those attending the gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Carsten, of 923 Fonthill; Mr. and Mrs. W. Potts, of 911 Fonthill; and Mr. and Mrs. N. Voche, of 827 Fonthill, and all the respective children.

The group had planned a game of volleyball after breakfast, but some recent excavation work had temporarily ruined the court.

Mrs. E. Peters, of 1216 Maple St., entertained at a family dinner for her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loftus and in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nix.

She served an unusual dish—cheese-biscuits, made with blue Hill cheddar cheese and butter, melted over biscuits. Along with this baked dish, Mrs. Peter's served roasted corn, tossed salad, strawberries and sour cream, and hot coffee. After dinner the family enjoyed a quiet evening of television and conversation.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Janasik, of 805 Fonthill, have house-guests from back east. Visiting from St. Paul, Minn., and planning a ten day stay, are Mr. and Mrs. George Wastocka, Mrs. Janasik's parents.

Friday night the two couples celebrated Wastocka's birthday by dining at the Smith Brothers Fish Shanty. Other plans include trips to Marineland, Corriganville, Disneyland, and a boat ride at the Redondo Pier.

Visiting at the home of their son, Reid Bundy, of 1121 Patronella Ave., during the past week were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bundy of Liberal, Kan. Accompanying the Bundys on their trip to California was their daughter, Barbara Delay, and her three children. The visitors took in a number of Southland events during their stay here.

Enjoying the Santa Barbara pageant and fiesta a fortnight ago, were the Lou Dyers, of 2838 Onrado St., and family.

The Fiesta celebrates the establishment of the mission and the settling of Santa Barbara. Leading the pageant, Friday night was movie star Vincent Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer and children, Diane, Dennis and Dieder were in Santa Barbara visiting Mrs. Dyer's mother over the week end. Saturday night they attended the Quisicosas—a variety type show that is also part of the Fiesta activities.

The following Wednesday, Mrs. Dyer's mother stayed overnight with the family and Thursday morning they saw her off at the International Airport, where she departed for a two week vacation visiting other relatives in Denver, Colo.

Dione Dyer, the oldest boy, left Saturday for a ten day stay at the Boy Scout Camp in Arrowhead. This troop is sponsored by the Episcopalian Church here in Torrance. While there, Dione will hike, swim work on crafts for merits and hopes to receive his "second class" award.

Dr. and Mrs. Allen Pyeatt, of 804 Corise, have just returned from a restful and wonderful week's vacation spent at Crestline. The Pyeatt's and children, Bobbie, 7, and Ralph, 3, stayed at the Club San Lortiz—a private mountain club which reserves cabins and entitles guests to the various vacation activities. The family swam, rode horses, played shuffleboard and relaxed on the beach.

While there, they took one day to visit friends—the Dick Browns. Brown is superintendent of the YMCA camp at Green Valley and as his guest they swam at the YMCA pool and the children were allowed to ride the donkeys. Besides the club activities, the Pyeatt family did a little sight-seeing, during the remainder of their stay.

Upon their return, Mrs. Pyeatt, entertained the Mary Church Circle of the First Methodist Church. Eighteen guests attended the regular monthly meeting and discussed their participation in the coming WSCS Bazaar. The Mary Circle hopes to have a booth in the children's corner, this fall. Primarily a fellowship group, the meeting was brief and upon conclusion the guests enjoyed homemade cheese cake and steaming coffee.

More Crestline Vacationers: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Klinking, of 2829 Onrado, along with children, Pamela, 8, and Jeffrey, 1, spent a restful week at Fletcher's Patio Pines, in Crestline. Enjoying the vacation with them were the Rodney Clars and family of Torrance.

The foursome spent most of their time relaxing at the lake, basking in the sun and swimming. In their more ambitious moments they hiked, played cards and barbecued outdoors. They were visited during the week by Mrs. Klinking's sister and brother-in-law, the McDonalds.

An elated family welcomed home Capt. Lloyd Wilbrecht, of 1215 Fonthill, last Thursday. Stationed in Greenland, the Captain is home for 15 days leave. He arrived at 2:30 a.m. after traveling with the Air Force to McGuire Field in Philadelphia, and from there to the International Airport.

Joining in the happy homecoming were the Donald Wilbrechts of San Francisco, who were house guests at the Wilbrecht home over Thursday and Friday.

Plan for his leave include trips to beach, visits with Captain Wilbrecht's relatives in San Bernardino, a trip to Disneyland, and being entertained by their many friends.

The couple enjoyed the hospitality of the R. J. Fruits, of 1008 Eriel, Saturday night, as they barbecued steaks and later teamed up in a fast-moving bridge game.

Brownie Troop 707 enjoyed a "cook-out" complete with homemade ice cream at Lomita Park, Wednesday.

In charge of the homemade ice cream was Mrs. Barbara Hardinghaus, of 808 Fonthill, who confessed that since the children enjoyed helping with the cranking, it was fun to make.

Those attending were Julie Bishop, Judy Bradford, Dianne Caldwell, Joan Cambon, Cathy Cassidy, Sharon Janasik, Lorraine Keltz, Pat Meyers, Sherry Pfeil, Colleen Sudekum and Cindy Wicker.

This same troop enjoyed another big occasion two weeks ago. The girls went roller skating at the Top-Roller Dome and had a wonderful time.

Attending lectures and receiving further training for two weeks at Fort MacArthur in San Pedro is reserve Major Joseph M. Campazzie. At the conclusion of his two weeks, the Major will take important examinations at this Command and General Staff School.

Mrs. Helen Crooker, of 809 Cranbrook, attended her Westchester Bridge Club this week at the home of the Robert Davenports, of Westchester, and again "brought home the bacon" . . . in this instance—first prize.

Mrs. Davenport served her guests delicious lemon chiffon pie and a frosted drink of sherbet, raspberry wine and cup, along with assorted candies and mints.

Not to be outdone, Mrs. Ruth Patton, of 805 Cranbrook, took home first prize at the North Torrance Group Dessert Bridge party.

Here they were treated to toasty baked macaron, topped with frozen peach sherbet and this topped with whip cream. Not so lucky as her neighbors was Mrs. Betsy Casey, of 3328 Torrance Blvd., who, although she won a prize, won the Booby.

Mrs. Wayne Norman, of 1109 Cranbrook, has just returned from a five week vacation, spent with her parents in Philip, S. D. Mrs. Norman and son, Bruce, flew Western Airlines to Rapid City, S. D., where they were met by her parents, Judge and Mrs. Harry L. Brown, and continued their trip by car.

Norman flew out and joined them August first. Besides visiting with old friends and neighbors, the Norman family helped Mrs. Norman's parents observe their 40th wedding anniversary.

Holding open house they entertained over 100 guests, serving white cake garnished with ruby roses—a symbol of the fourth year—and punch. The house was also decorated in colors white and ruby, making the occasion really festive.

The family also paid a visit to Norman's parents, the R. D. Normans, of Burke, S. D.

Bruce swam and fished and generally enjoyed the atmosphere of western cattle ranching. On the return trip home the family spent time in the Black Hills, Denver, and the Rockies.

Mrs. Dolph D. Tuggle, of 1121 Hickory St., held a farewell coffee hour for Mrs. James Halle, of 1109 Hickory. Invited guests were friends and neighbors, who were served berry and apple pastries and hot coffee. After refreshments Wilma Halle was presented with a lovely, blue blouse as a gift and remembrance from her friends.

Entertaining Monday night at a steak barbecue were the Ralph Schmidts, of 1220 Maple. Their guests included Mrs. Ed Peters, of 1216 Maple, and the Walt Petersons of Palos Verdes.

Bonnie Schmidt celebrated her sixth birthday Saturday by assembling her guests at her home and then treating them all to a wonderful day at the Amusement Park on Crenshaw and Imperial.

The children were hosted to the rides and activities by one of the park helpers, who learned each of their names, and his special attention made the day even more exciting. After the rides the little guests sat at canopied tables and were served ice cream, peppermint stick, cake and cola.

Those attending were Michelle and Dienele Musick, Judy Osborn, Mike Belzer, Glen Amos, Tommy and Timmy Evans, Joe Moore, Kenny Hall and Linda Brady.

Blessfully sightseeing and visiting old friends and relatives on a three and a half-week trip back to Providence R. I., were the Mathew W. Iacovellis of 1309 Maple St. With them on the driving vacation was a two-year-old Shelly.

Another trip from the same address. Mrs. Robert Emma, and nine-year-old son, Robert, who also reside at 1309 Maple, took a motor tour of San Francisco, Washington, Oregon, and Victoria, Canada.

They visited cheese factories, wineries, breweries, Fisherman's Wharf and even managed some swimming and golfing. In Canada they visited the Butchard's Gardens, and the famous Hartley Castle, which is similar to our West Point. Last, but not least, they examined the Winded Ice cream, peppermint stick, cake and cola.

Mrs. Margaret Evans, of 1212 Feibar St., was the happy recipient of a console piano which her husband gave her as a remembrance of their wedding anniversary. Rising to the occasion, Mrs. Evans salvaged all her old music and is not to be found far from the piano nowadays.

Fifteen-year-old Karen Peters is visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. Bula Peters of Villa. Along with her for her two-week vacation is Miss Ann McDonald, of Torrance.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Campazzie, of 2783 Sonoma, attended a Charter Dinner of the Rotary Club of Hollywood Riviera, held at the San Pedro Hacienda Hotel, in San Pedro.

The function was sponsored by the Redondo, Manhattan Beach and Torrance Rotary membership of their wedding anniversary. There were eight tables.

Mrs. Shidler Theft Victim

Mrs. John A. Shidler, 317 Camino De Las Colinas, better known to video fans as Rosemary DeCamp, reported the theft of change from her purse while at Torrance Beach last week.

She is the wife of South Bay seating two members from each city and two members representing the Hollywood Riviera Rotary.

Campazzie was appointed one of the directors for the Rotary group.

Municipal Court Judge John A. Shidler.

Mrs. John E. Alnes also reported loss of money from her purse the same day.

County lifeguards advised Torrance authorities that a number of cash thefts from purses and wallets had been reported at the beach.

WINS FREEZING UNIT . . . Mrs. R. L. Swartz, of 23326 Maribel Ave., Wilmington, found that it pays to shop at Jim Dandy Market here, as she was awarded a new freezer unit as her prize in the summer customer bonus contest sponsored by the store. Here Jim Dandy clerk Ray Payne shows features of the freezer to Mrs. Swartz prior to delivery of the unit.
