Youthful Mr. Witt Just Misses Being Man Who Came to Dinner

By ALICE PERKIN
FA 8-5285

A baby boy was Mrs. Gerald Witt's most treasured birthday gift this year.

Mrs. Witt and her husband celebrated her birthday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Robert H. Tolson, of 1322 Teri Ave., this week.

They had just finished an outdoor barbecue dinner, when young Mr. Witt gave notice of his impending arrival and was born shortly afterward. He joins a sister, 3, and brother, 20 months.

Don't be surprised when you find that some of your neighbors aren't who they seem to be for the next few weeks.

For instance, Mrs. Frank Kelly, of 926 Felbar, may be sinking around as "the mysterious other woman."

Mrs. Lou Dyer, of 2838 Onrado, and Mrs. Kenneth Perkin, of 2830 El Dorado, may be standing outside, dressed in peasant skirts and chattering loudly in Sicilian.

William Rosewill, of 2842 Onrado may be carrying a black bag and looking very much like a doctor.

And Ed Cantle, of 1809 Florwood, may be seen looking very engle and very much as a minister.

By now you've very likely guessed the explanation of this peculiar behavior. Another play comin' u p soon! ACCENT: Theatre will present the successful Broadway play, "Rose Tattoo," by Tennessee Williams.

It will be directed by Nora Lee Benedict, and Mrs. Paul Harestad, of 2849 Onrado, will be the assistant director.

On costume is Mrs. Ed Peters, of 1216 Maple. The cast not only includes adults, but several children, and even boasts a white goat among its number.

Girl Scout Troop 1293 is getting organized for the coming school year, reports Mrs. Carl Osterlind, of 2813 Sonoma.

Mrs. Osterlind is troop leader and Mrs. Ellwood Stromman, of 1014 Felbar, is co-leader. The first meeting of the court of honor officers and patrol leaders will be held at 7 p.m. at the Osterlind home, today.

Next Thursday, at the same place and at the same time, the girls' parents will meet. The gathering is designed to let the parents know what the girls want and how each parent can cooperate. The parents have two or three of these meetings during the year.

The entire troop has scheduled a tentative first meeting for Sept. 14.

Mrs. Wain E. Bear, of 1207 Felbar, has just recently returned from a three week vacation spent in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Bear has been employed at Douglas Aircraft, Inc., for the last two years and upon termination decided to gather up her children, Randy, 8, and Riana, 6, and depart for some rest and relaxation.

The weather was warm and humid but Mrs. Bear and the children were undaunted as they enjoyed shopping trips, picnics, parties at relatives homes, and a trip through Paradise Valley. The family stayed at the home of Mrs. Bear's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Broadston.

The Tally-Hi Bridge Club met this last week at the home of Mrs. Jack Kilnzing, of 2829 Onrado.

Entertaining her guests amidst a garden theme, Mrs. Kilnzing had her home decorated with home grown flowers. Twined about a rose colored candle upon each of the two tables, were varieties of asters, zinnias and marigolds. Continuing with her garden theme, Mrs. Kilnzing served a delicate white angelfood cake, smothered with home-garden grown strawberries, and topped with whip-cream.

Those attending were Mrs. Gordon Capps, Mrs. Kenneth Perkin, Mrs. Rodney Clark, Mrs. Audrey Pipkin, Mrs. Ann Wiles, Mrs. Pat Peters, and Mrs. Alice Thames.

The husbands really make out on Fonthill St! Besides getting their mending done regularly, every two weeks, these men get treated to dinners and to play poker once a month.

Who can blame them for encouraging their wives in the Sewing Group that has been meeting, and treating, for about three years now?

One of their past night-outs included dinner and an evening at the Aragon Ballroom, where they danced to the music of Lawrence Welk. Just recently the women feted the men to a dinner in Long Beach and to a show afterwards.

Primarily a social group, the wives have no regular officers, except a treasurer, and meet according to alphabet. The last meeting was at the home of Mrs. L. M. Savage, of 905 Fonthill. Members include Mmes. Gerald Young, Ray Roberts, Thomas Burns, Robert Andren, Ted Keltz, Neil Veske, Lee Savage, Webb Potts, Robert Focha, and Carty Carstenson.

Camping out for 10 days in Oak Creek Canyon, Ariz., were the Gordon Capp family, of 2850 Eldorado.

The Capps pitched two tents for themselves and their girls, Melinda and Etlevie; and a trailer nearby for their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Meeker and boys, Jimmy, 16, and Jerry, 12, from Phoenix, who accompanied them.

Exercise, fresh air and relaxation, was the ticket as the group fished, swam, slept on the ground and even ate their meals outdoors.

Taking a side trip one day the two families went up to the Montezuma Castle—a treat to abide cliff homes built by the Hopi Indians. Carved into the limestone cliff over 700 feet up these homes were built as a protection from other hostile Indians of the time.

Traveling leisurely the family made several stops. Their first was a two-day stop-over with Mrs. Walker's sister, Mrs. Donn Clarenbac, of Palo Alto. They stayed with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dalton, of Bonanza, Ore., for three days.

From there they traveled through Crater Lake National Park and Bend, Ore. Still en route, they went around Mt. Hood loop and on to Portland where they stayed with their aunt, Mrs. W. Rydalah.

The family took a sight-seeing tour of Portland, Bonneville Dam, the fish hatcheries, and went across the Columbia River via the bridge and over into Washington. On the return trip they stopped over in Redwood, fishing and relaxing.

Mrs. H. M. Burrows, of 2938

Opal, are happily anticipating the arrival of a 15-foot trailer, to be delivered soon. Since Burrows is a teacher, the couple plan many summer vacations and week end trips in their "home away from home."

Entertaining at an outdoor chicken barbecue last Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harestad. After meeting the Mel Sagenkauns, who had just returned from San Francisco where they had attended a play put on by a theater group they previously belonged to, the Harestads gathered up children and friends to enjoy the barbecue. Those also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cantle and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Dyer.
