WALTERIA NEWS NOTES

Four Couples Sail to Catalina For Two-Week Vacation Outing

BETTY MITCHELL
FA 8-4488

Something wonderful is the way of vacations was what the Leon Owens of Park St. enjoyed during the last two weeks—Aug. 13 to 27. Taking full advantage of their grand new boat they went on a boating vacation to Catalina Island accompanied by three other couples on their respective boats. It's one more way to beat the heat, since the ocean waters were always available for a cooling dip. Fishing, too, was easily done by dropping a line over the side. They were the wonderful meals served accordingly, deliciously done to a "T" over the "Hibachi," a grill-type cooker. The Owens also went on the KRTD radio station programs and other took the island tour to see all of Catalina. Others enjoying the vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elam, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thompson, and Mr. Otis Lyons and daughter, Jean. While there and they were enjoying themselves at Catalina, the Owen families had a lot of fun with grandma and grandad, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smith, at Twenty-nine Palms.

To those who are purchasing apartment house for summer days, here's a word to the wise. Watch that sand collection. It can create dangerous bits of glass and trash. Mrs. Jeanne Harvey of Newton St., had a very unfortunate accident last week when she severely cut her foot while enjoying the beach weather. It is feared that surgery will have to be performed on one of her toes in order to restore its usefulness. It's a shame that someone's carelessness has to spoil an innocent person's good time. Won't you readers help our beach area by putting all dangerous bits of glass and trash in the barrels furnished for same when you find them at the beach?

Little Curtis Allen is back from Children's Hospital after undergoing ear surgery. Seems the biggest problem these days is keeping him fairly quiet. If those bandages can come off, Curtis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, of Newton Street.

Among those just summer vacationists are Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Beck of Raintree Ave., who are taking a trip up the coast for about two weeks.

* * *

Rev. and Mrs. Gene Gettres spent a couple of days this week having a sunny good time at Ensenada.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cramer of Las Cadena had a busy Labor Day week end when they spent Sunday at Paradise Cove, north of Malibu, and then spent an informative and enjoyable tour of the harbor from Magnolia pier in Long Beach on Monday.

Little Diane Parsons celebrated her tenth birthday quietly with last week end. On Saturday evening, members of the family including Mrs. Albert Hinds, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gill, Mr. Fred Knowler and Mr. and Mrs. Don Gill of Long Beach, gathered round to wish her a happy birthday. The birthday cake was cleverly baked in the shape of a lamb.

41 CLASSES ON AGENDA FOR ADULTS THIS YEAR

Forty-one classes—ranging from lampshade making to blue print reading—will be offered in Adult Education classes this fall, according to Raymond E. Collins, principal.

Classes will begin their sessions on Wednesday, Sept. 14, with 36 night and 32 daytime classes. Subjects offered range from purely academic courses—history, English, and typing—to home improvement—cake decorating, dressmaking and gardening—and more technical aspects—blueprint reading and drafting.

High school credit will be given for academic and selective subjects for those who wish to complete work for a diploma, as well as certain requirements for college preparation.

Students may register in all classes by attending its first session. Further information can be obtained at FA 8-3272.

City Aiding Water Firm

The city of Torrance is pumping Metropolitan Water District water to the Belvedere Mutual Water Co., to help the firm meet terms of the West Basin Water agreement officials announced last week.

The terms of the agreement call for curtailed pumping of waters underneath Torrance and surrounding areas. Officials reported that rise in water levels is now being recorded. The agreement curtailed pumping because of serious depletion of the underground supply.

The West Basin directors will meet tonight at 6:30 at the Palos Verdes Country Club.
