

Students Flood Herald With Clean-up Slogan Ideas

12 Days Remain To Submit Entry

Response to the HERALD's slogan contest for Torrance school students has been overwhelming. Publisher King Williams announced yesterday. And students still have 12 days to enter. In cooperation with city officials who have launched a campaign to clean up Torrance streets, the HERALD announced a slogan contest last week to select a new reminder for the city's trash receptacles. The winner will receive a $25 savings bond.

Norman Ray Reese, a seventh grader at Madrona Elementary School, was the first to submit a slogan. He suggests that the trash receptacles on the downtown streets be given a sign which says:

PLACE THE LITTER DON'T LITTER THE PLACE

Pretty catchy, isn't it? Just the type of slogan that the judges are apt to pick when they sit down to choose a new phrase for the city's trash containers.

Norman wasn't the only one to send in a slogan—Rodney White, a fourth grader at Torrance Elementary School suggests the shoppers in Torrance be reminded of the trash problem with a two-word slogan:

CAN IT

Marianne Donohoe, who is in the second grade at St. Catherine Labourer School, sent in four suggestions for the slogan:

1. FOR TRASH AND LITTER BUGS
2. I'M HERE FOR TRASH (DUMPERS)
3. TRASH DUMPERS IN HERE
4. IF YOU THROW TRASH ON HIGHWAYS CRAWL IN HERE

Now that fourth suggestion might be the most logical solution to the whole problem. Don't dump the trash in the cans, just dump the trash dumpers in the can. It has some very interesting possibilities.

Allison Hubocan, a second grader at Hillside Elementary School, has submitted three slogans in an effort to collect the $25 savings bond which the HERALD will present to the author of the winning slogan:

1. DEPOSITS IS NO DUMP DEPOSIT HERE, PLEASE
2. NO DUMPY ON THE STREET WHEN YOU LIVE IN TORRANCE CITY

RUBBISH CITY OR CITY OF TORRANCE WHICH?

And so they go. There are more, and the HERALD will publish more of the slogans next Monday. Get your slogan in today.

Students of any elementary school in the Torrance Unified School District can still enter slogans. Deadline for entry is midnight, Dec. 6. Entries can be mailed or delivered to the Torrance HERALD, 1619 Gramercy Ave., Torrance, up until the deadline.

Students entering slogans should include their name, address, school, and grade on the entry.

Rain Hampers Schedule

While the slogan contest is going along as scheduled, the proposed clean-up of the city's street shoulders has received a setback due to the rains which have fallen during the past two week ends.

Street Superintendent Ralph Perkins had planned to start last week with graders, scoops, and trucks in cleaning off the debris along the city's streets, but the rain has made the shoulders too soft for the heavy equipment.

Would Make It Worse

"I'm afraid we'd make it look worse than it is now if we moved heavy tractors onto those muddy shoulders now," Perkins said yesterday. He is still ready to put crews on the job the

Obituaries

Esther Sanders

Final rites for Mrs. Esther Sanders, 55, a resident of Torrance for the past 37 years, were held yesterday in White and Day Chapel, Hermosa Beach. She died Monday at her home.

A resident at 22410 Neece Ave., she was born in Santa Cruz on Aug. 21, 1900. Her husband, a World War I veteran, died in 1940. A son, James, was killed during World War II.

She is survived by a daughter, Dorothy Kern, of Paramount; two sons, Patrick Henry Sanders, of Harbor City, and Earl Sanders, of Torrance; a sister, Violet Sanders, of Redondo Beach; two brothers, Walter Payne, of Hermosa Beach; Roy Payne, of Redondo Beach, and nine grandchildren.

Burial was in Pacific Crest Cemetery.

GASOLINE BUYERS

It is estimated there will be at least 31 million new purchasers of gasoline within the next 10 years.

PLYE GETS CUP . . . A silver cup, won by the Harbor area Community Chest is turned over to Dick Pyle (second from left), of Torrance, area commerce and industry vice-chairman, by James Visceglia, area campaign chairman. The cup honored the area's increase in commerce and industry volunteer organization. Looking on are George Bradbeer, board chairman and president of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce and Bob Young, San Pedro commerce and industry chairman.

3 Torrance Students on Paper Staff

Three Torrance residents—Dick Gatley, Thelma Smith, and Denise Funk—are currently staff members of the El Camino Warwhoop, college newspaper.

Gatley, who is in his third semester at El Camino, graduated from Torrance High School in 1954. While in high school, he was a news reporter for the Torrance News Torch.

A reporter, Gatley was born 19 years ago in Montreal, Can., and is at present an English major at Camino. He is undecided as to which college or university he will attend after his El Camino graduation. His present address is 1847 Santa Fe Ave.

Miss Smith graduated with the class of '55 from Torrance High School and is in her first semester at El Camino. During her senior year in high school, she was editor-in-chief of the Torrance News Torch.

Miss Smith is 18 years old and is a journalism major at the college. She is a news reporter for the Warwhoop and plans to attend Brigham Young University on graduation from the local college. Born in Phoenix, Ariz., she presently lives at 17508 Delia Ave.

Miss Funk, 18 years old, was born in Los Angeles and graduated from St. Mary's Academy in 1955. She is in her first semester at El Camino, where she is also a journalism major. Miss Funk, who is pledging the Chi Theta Chi sorority, is a news reporter for the Warwhoop. Her home address is 23652 Ward St.

The Warwhoop recently was one of seven junior college papers throughout the country to be awarded All-American honors through the Associated College press.

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY DRIVE DATES REVEALED

The annual march for Muscular Dystrophy will be conducted in Torrance, Dec. 4-8, when hundreds of volunteers call on homes for contributions in the fight against the crippling disease.

Doorbells will be rung for five straight nights as citizens call on their friends and neighbors with an urgent appeal for help for more than 200,000 MD victims including many local residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Ingalls, Southwestern area chairmen, who are spearheading the volunteer effort here, said that the house-to-house march is the highlight of the annual December drive of the Los Angeles County Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy Assn., and is part of a nationwide campaign.

"The local MDA group has a dual program supported by public contributions of patient service and research aimed at finding the cause and cure of this mysterious malady," they said.

The chairmen said that the patient service program is a comprehensive one, involving diagnosis, medical advice, speech, physical and occupational therapy, orthopedic devices and assistive equipment such as braces, wheel chairs and lifts, transportation, medical-social service and psychological guidance for patients and families.

Persons who would like to volunteer their services to aid in the local march may call Los Angeles County campaign headquarters, 3209 W. Olympic, Los Angeles, DUinkirk 5-1355.

Brother, Pals Operate Carnival For Jack Smith's 6th Birthday

By VERA C. WRIGHT FR 2-2388

The day Jack Smith, of 18405 Roslin Ave., became six years old, his brother, David, and some of his friends took charge of activities in the carnival party booths.

Guests enjoyed the party among leis, bubble gum, charms, paper parasols, trading cards, puzzles, plastic balls, life savers, and other things. In charge of the booths at the party were David Smith, balloons; Chris Fillian, volley ball throw; Barry Brackett, fish pond; and Gary Wagner, bean bags.

Mother Smith prepared refreshment of ice cream, candy, punch, and cake with Davy Crockett frontiersmen, Indians and a rock fort on it. Nut cups were formed like Davy Crockett hats with crepe paper tails. Even the napkins had pictures of the "king of the wild frontier" on them.

Attending were Kathy and Alan Brackett; Kathy Mellor; Michael Sellers; Linda Hynes; Kathy Dieter; Kathy Kerry, and Johnny Germer; Jimmy and Johnny Thomas; and Jule, Bobbie, Jean, and Tommy Baron.

The Glenn Blakes celebrated their 18th wedding anniversary recently by attending a showing of "Oklahoma!" and a cocktail party.

Bob Haws, of 18404 Roslin Ave., recently underwent surgery and is recovering at his home. Get-well cards would be appreciated.

Although fall is no longer vacation time, our community never vacations from fun and invariably continues to live in a state of relaxed happiness all year round.

The Philo Mellors, 18249 Ashley Ave., home was the surprise hideout for a linen and personal bridal shower hosted by Helen Desher and Marion Mellor for red-headed Ella Killian.

Many games were played, pictures taken and refreshments served and those checking on an automatic visa passport to paradise for Mrs. Kill-an were Audrey Herring, Lou Kelley, Ruth Martin, Maudie Salsbury, Ruth Ann Desher, Enid Runsted, Vera Wright, Sarah Hooker, Barbara Told, Pearl Hebert, Helen Desher, Marion Mellor, Fluffy Brackett, Mary Smith and Kay Donaldson.

Midst the opening of the many lovely gifts, the tables were turned on Mrs. O. Salsbury, a guest who was celebrating her birthday that day, and the entire group chorused the "Happy Birthday" song in her honor.

The traveling done by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Baker, of Thornburgh Ave., earlier this year provided the idea for a novel birthday celebration.

With son, Jerry, and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Art Young, their destination became a reality in the form of Fort Desert, Hot Springs, Mission Canyon was the ideal spot for their fried chicken picnic lunch with all the trimmings. Gathering rocks and driftwood and eating dinner at a local restaurant completed the perfect birthday celebration for a handsome gentleman.

The Alondra Lane Home Owners Assn. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John De La Haye, 16843 Thornburgh Ave., and enjoyed a pot luck supper then under the guidance of Mrs. A. Katz, president.

The group discussed Christmas lighting for their streets. Many ideas were studied and many surprises are in store for our community.

Mother, Boy Hit by Car

A mother and her five-year-old son were in serious condition yesterday morning at Gardena Community Hospital, after they were struck by a car Tuesday night on Carson St., west of Halldale Ave.

Mrs. Emzie Wilson, 51, and her son, Richard, 5, of 2054 Lomita Park Pl., were crossing Carson St. shortly after 5 p.m. Tuesday when they were hit by a car driven by Charles Barry, 48, of 2227 Arlington Ave. Mrs. Wilson told authorities that the impact of the vehicle threw her head over heels for a distance of 70 feet.

She has a possible fractured hip and pelvis, while her son has a fractured skull, according to hospital officials. Barry was not held by police.

Working for you everywhere—
Little black blocks... called brushes

You wouldn't touch an object spinning around at thousands of revolutions per minute. But just such a contact is necessary to transfer electricity between the moving and the stationary parts of electric motors that serve us all.

HOW DOES ELECTRICITY bridge the gap? Through little blocks of carbon or graphite called brushes.

Nearly 500 brushes, each the size of a pack of cards, are in a diesel-electric locomotive, while a tiny pair of brushes, hardly the size of a pencil eraser, do the job in your vacuum cleaner.

WHY BRUSHES OF CARBON or graphite? Because they are excellent conductors of electricity and are dependable and long-lasting, despite constant pressure against moving parts.

NEARLY 60 YEARS AGO, the people of Union Carbide began making carbon brushes. Today, UCC makes millions of brushes each year, in thousands of different sizes and types. Wherever electricity is generated and used — on, above, or beneath the earth and water — these brushes are at work, your dependable, seldom-seen servants.
