Neighborhood Asked to Comment On Suggestions to Change Trees

By VIDUA KLUG
FRS 5-5928

The question of the trees planted in our parkways on Palos Verdes Blvd. has come up, and we have been informed by a member of the park department that they are the wrong trees for this area, they are so slow in growing. He also informed us that the city will replace them at a cost to each property owner not to exceed $2. Most of us are in favor of this, but would like to hear from more of our neighbors on what their reaction is on the subject. I have a list of trees suitable for our climate.

Thursday evening, Feb. 9, the John Klugs and Hubert Rampleys of Waverly, were among the 20 members of the Adult Recreation Club to attend the concert of the Torrance Area Youth Band at the Civic Auditorium, as guests of the Conductor James Van Dyck. Torrance should be proud of this organization. The talent is outstanding and the interpretation of the numbers played was wonderful, coming from young people. If you haven't attended one of these concerts try to attend the next one, which will be April 10, at 8:15 p.m., with Clarence Turner as guest star. The guest star of the last concert was Joseph Schuster, cellist, accompanied by Ralph Linsley, pianist. It was a privilege to hear this great artist. So let's all get behind this band and support them. The Adult Club wishes to thank the conductor for a most enjoyable evening.

Did you ever get caught in a fog so dense that you could just see the white line at times? Well, that happened to us Friday evening. After spending a nice evening with friends in West Los Angeles, we started for home about 11 p.m. We caught up with the fog on Lincoln Blvd. Being afraid of losing sight of the line, we missed our turn. But the time we were able to see the street signs, we were in East L.A. We finally got on the right road, and got lost again. This time we stopped at 187th and Shoup Ave. So we thought we would have to spend the night in the car. After waiting two hours for the fog to lift, we started out again. But luck was with us, we finally landed on Rosecrans. Can't tell you how we got there. The fog wasn't so dense on Pacific Coast Hwy. We had to stop for gas and the attendant told us about the man who had just left, who had come down from San Francisco, to visit in L.A. and drove through it without knowing it. So we felt better after hearing that. We finally arrived home at 3 a.m. The fog was quite dense out here.

Sunday, Feb. 12, being Boy Scout Sunday, Troop 966, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Poore and his staff, attended and took part in the morning services of the Seaside Community Evangelical and Reform Church at 230th and Ocean Blvd. They opened the service with Senior Patrol Leader Jerry Johnson in charge of the color presentation. The two who presented the colors were Scouts Buddy Durham and Clayton Moore. After the colors were presented, they all gave the Scout Oath and Law. The Scripture reading, Matt. 19:16-22 was read by Carey Van de Watering, chaplain of the troop. Assistant Scoutmaster, Bob Halliwell, led the congregation in the Unison Reading and then gave an inspiring talk on "Religion in Scouting." The theme was "Onward for God and My Country." Two of the Scouts acted as ushers. After an inspiring message by Rev. Richard Miller on "A Call; Our Answer," the Scouts marched out in a body. Present were Messrs. Dunham, Assistant Scoutmaster; Crowley, secretary; and Fulkerson, treasurer. Scouts Tom Glandley, Ted Tottle, Bob and Larry Woerner, and Chuck McKintosh. Bob Halliwell and Steve Poore are organizing an Explorers Patrol. We sure enjoyed having the Scouts with us and hope they make a return visit soon.

There will be a Valentine Party, Friday, Feb. 17, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the church for the parents and children of the intermediate group. The Women's Guild of Seaside E. and R. Church met at the home of Mary Rosellen, 22605 Dr. Tuesday evening, Feb. 7, for the purpose of making baskets as our project in the World's Service plan. Coffee and snacks were served to the women, who munched as they sewed. Present were Betty Pauling, Dorothy Hollowell, Louise Miller, Bee Miller, Frances Gulbransen, Leona Tooker, Lois Martin, Dolly Gant, and Roberts Parker. They will meet again today at 1 p.m. at the same place to finish the project. If you are interested please come and help.

The Green Thumbers Garden Club will meet at the home of the president, Betty Fitzgerald, 5688 Rockview St. Thursday, Feb. 16, at 8 p.m.
