THE BEST OF RIDES—FOR FOLKS OR FREIGHT

Los Cancioneros to Combine Show And Chorus in 'Whale of a Tale'

With hammer and nails and paint plus much talent, Los Cancioneros, South Bay's outstanding choral group, directed by Don Bremer of Playa del Rey, is preparing a unique setting for its annual concert to be given in Redondo High School auditorium, June 8 and 9 at 8:30 p.m. The theme of the concert second half which follows a well balanced selection of traditional choral works is most appropriate for this locale since the story and music are concerned with the sea.

Filling the role of both producer and director of "A Whale of a Tale" is Ray Wallace of Rolling Hills who has written the script and designed the sets.

This production with its sea chanties and set with full-rigged ship vintage 1812, complete dock, and small craft, is a natural for Wallace who is a sea faring man himself from early youth and with several years to his credit as navigator on the Honolulu yacht race.

Building Ship Here
Assisting in set design is Thorsten Burman who has done the initial construction of the ship in his cabinet shop in Torrance. Bob Holmes of Manhattan Beach, who has been in the bartone section of Los Cancioneros for the past four years, is stage manager. Bill Jackson as manager of stage properties at Redondo High School is technical advisor to the group. Working with Holmes are Cliff Patterson and Ed Merritt of Redondo Beach. Wendell Grove of Torrance, a tenor with Los Cancioneros, is in charge of properties and has had the interesting job of collecting ship's tackle and gear from the harbor to lend realism to the set. Floyd Edwards will again prepare an eye-catching lobby display to set the mood for the nautical second half.

RIGGING THE SHIP . . . Getting things ready for the second half of the Los Cancioneros concert June 8 and 9 are three members of the famed local choral group (left to right), Bill Beckman, Vic Kilburn and Ray Wallace. The production will be entitled "A Whale of a Tale."

Los Cancioneros, translated "The Singers," who began as a neighborhood singing group in the Hollywood Riviera area seven years ago have established an enviable reputation as an outstanding choral organization in the Southland. Their ability in the fields of both classical and light music has given them a large and enthusiastic audience which anticipates the annual concert as one of the major musical events of the year.

This year for the first time a center block of reserved seats are on sale, the remainder of the auditorium will be general admission tickets. All tickets may be obtained from chorus members or by calling Frontier 5-3570.
