Foursquare Church In New Building

A dream was fulfilled last week when the local Foursquare Church moved to its new location and new building. The southeast corner of Arling and Sepulveda was purchased some two years ago for the new site where a parsonage has been built and the first of three units of the church. This first unit, semi-modern in architecture, is a functional building designed for junior and primary Sunday School age groups, but will also be utilized for church worship services while the second unit is under construction. Much of the work was done by volunteer labor by the members and friends of the congregation.
The pastor, Rev. James P. Lowen, invites the public to view the building and worship on Sunday at 10:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday School is at 9:30 a.m.

Local Church To Host Rally

The women's guild of Central Church recently redecorated the chancel and sanctuary.

Warner, senior bishop of the denomination, will dedicate the new chancel and preach to the congregation Sunday at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Mrs. Warner, who recently toured Europe and Palestine will bring slides of her trip, to a united meeting of the Christian Endeavor Societies at 7 p.m. Sunday. ## New Christian Science Television Series Opens

The new series of televised programs, "How Christian Science Heals," will be released Sept. 16.

"The tremendous interest aroused by the first group of Christian Science programs televised last fall, continued to mount throughout the showing of the second group this spring," said Charles L. Reilly, Christian Science Committee on Publication for Southern California, in announcing production of a third group.

"Evidence of this interest in the large volume of audience mail and in the constantly improving position in the TV popularity ratings," said Mr. Reilly, "confirms the belief that people generally are gaining in their appreciation of the rules for living as taught in the Bible and awakening, too, to the growing weight of evidence that the Bible holds ever greater resources for mankind in the realm of healing."

Practical Examples
To supply this growing need for practical examples on how religion can, and is, meeting the human need in every department of modern life, a third group of programs was recently filmed in the studios

Plan Extended Sunday School

Titles Shown
Titles of some of the new programs in the series, "How Christian Science Heals," are indicative of their application to many compelling problems, as for example: "Freedom From Thirst for Alcohol," "The Power That Restores Shattered Lives," "An Answer to the Pressures of Modern Living," "Meeting Emergencies in Daily Affairs" and "The Life More Abundant."

The new television series debut Sunday, Sept. 16, at a new time—1 p.m.—on KABC-TV, Channel 7, Los Angeles.

Tuesday evening at 6:30 p.m., Pastor Gangsei will enroll the confirmation class for this coming year. Students will be those who are in the 9th or 10th grades or those who have had previous confirmation instruction of a partial nature. Interested parents should contact the church office or see the pastor on Sunday.
