Inglewood Beauty to Rule At El Camino Homecoming

Inglewood Beauty 3-36... sam Maggie Tate, 19-year-old Inglewood beauty, will be 1956 Homecoming Queen of El Camino College. Selection was made at a banquet given in honor of the candidates Thursday night.

Getting the nod from a group of 10 applicants, Miss Tate will preside over the Homecoming week activities commencing Oct. 22. She is also the honored guest at the homecoming football game with Bakersfield Saturday, Oct. 27.

Sharon-Faye South, 19, and Sandra Kuenster, 19, also from Inglewood, complete Miss Tate's court as princesses. Installed Friday

Miss Tate, a former homecoming princess, will be officially installed at a Homecoming banquet and rally Friday evening, Oct. 26.

A five-member panel—Mrs. Forrest G. Murdock, wife of the college president; Earl Corder, president of the Alumni Assn.; Dr. Wallace Fraser, El Camino Board of Trustees; Dick Rusth, student body president, and John Dobbin, faculty—based their decision on personality, character, appearance and poise.

Miss Tate, who resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy K. Tate, at 510 S. LaBrea Ave., is a 1954 graduate of Inglewood High School. While there she served as Girls' League vice president and vice president of Los Conquistadores, a Spanish language club.

Princess Last Year
A major in elementary education, she was princess at the Sweetheart's Ball last spring and a princess in last year's Homecoming Court. She is currently serving as vice president of the Associated Students. Future plans of the co-ed include the completion of her work for a teaching credential at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Selected from candidates of colleges and universities of Southern California to be the Starlight Girl of Hollywood Bowl this summer, Miss Kuenster was also president of the Starlight Club. She makes her home with her mother, Mrs. Gladys C. Kuenster, at 2916

W. 85th St., Inglewood, and is a graduate of Los Angeles High School. While at L.A. High, she was an officer in music and service organizations, and winner of a national piano contest. Also an education major, Miss Kuenster plans to attend the University of California at Los Angeles following her program at El Camino. On the Warrior campus, she served as an Indian Maiden last fall, was a winner of the campus' first annual talent show, and performed at the State Junior College convention at Catalina. She has been the recipient of numerous other honors and engagements for her musical talent.

Briefing Given Chairman Of Community Chest Drive

Representing commercial and industrial firms in the harbor area, Torrance employes chest chairman for the current Community Chest appeal attended a luncheon and briefing session at the Wayfarers' Restaurant in Lomita.

The luncheon, one of a series, are being hosted by public-spirited firms in addition to contributing their chest gifts.

Wesley C. Waldorf, Property-Management Corp. of Gardena, currently serving in the chest campaign as commerce and industry division chairman, presided in the absence of Charles Morgan, harbor area commerce and industry chairman.

Appeal Endorsed
James Viscaglia, last year's harbor area campaign chairman, enthusiastically endorsed the annual Red Feather appeal for a successful campaign.

Two color-sound chest films were shown, "These Hands Are Yours," depicting actual scenes from welfare services offered by the chest's Red Feather agencies, and "The Big Yes," telling the current campaign story on the need to meet the goal of $10,000,000 in the Los Angeles area drive.

The briefing session, with a question and answer forum, was scheduled in preparation for the individual firm employes gifts kick-off set for Oct. 22.

Representatives Attend
Representing the individual firms were: Mmes. Helen Anderson, San Pedro News-Pilot; Doreen Albers, Robert Hall Clothing Co.; Lucy Cooper, Hygiene Shower Curtain Mfg. Co.; and Misses Betty Minore, Southwestern Preci-

Obituaries

Anna Maria Grande

Gravestone services for 21-month-old Anna Maria Grande, daughter of Mrs. Elena Grande, 2276 Del Amo Blvd., were held at Pacific Crest Cemetery yesterday morning. The child was killed Wednesday afternoon when a car driven by her aunt backed over her in the family driveway.
