Judy Wolf Named Cotton Queen
In Narbonne High School Tests

By BILLIE ROBERTSON
Cotton Queen of Narbonne High School is Judy Wolf, 17, of Halldale Ave. Her two princesses are Judy Zittle, 16, and Kay Muench, 14. The three girls were chosen for their posture, neatness, and appropriateness of dress for the school.

Members of the Stephen White Junior High School PTA executive board headed by Mrs. H. E. St. Clair, held a kidnap breakfast last week.

Hostesses were Mrs. Marvin Holm and Mrs. Jack Spence with the breakfast being held in Mrs. Holm's home.

The purpose of the fund-raising event was to pay Mrs. St. Clair's expense at the state PTA convention in Long Beach. She will report on the convention at the next PTA meeting.

The board meeting of the 223rd St. PTA was held Monday morning in the school auditorium. Mrs. Elizabeth Dandy, principal, and Mrs. David Goolsby, president of the PTA, welcomed the board members. They served coffee and cookies before the meeting started.

The purpose of the cookies was to acquaint the members with the cookies that the children of the school are going to be selling.

Each child will come with receipts for anyone wishing to order cookies. The cookies are a major money raising event of the year sponsored by the PTA. They will be delivered May 17.

The cookies are delicious, attractively packaged, and inexpensive. Buy several boxes for your lunch boxes.

The regular meeting of the Shoestring Advisory Board met at the Normandale Recreation Center Tuesday, May 7, under the direction of Herman Eisenbeis, president of the councilmatic group.

Joe Goss, in the absence of Councilman John Gibson, brought us up to date on the many improvement projects being worked on in the area.

F. Hammit, director of Normandale, asked us all to be sure and vote May 28. The main thing is to get better recreation centers for the children.

Goss introduced Otto S. Snoffer, public relations representative from the Water and Power Department. He talked on the struggle to get water and power to the Los Angeles area.

Snoffer presented a movie entitled "Twin Titans" which was a story of how water was brought to Los Angeles. Water was brought from the Colorado River in 1923. In 1955 a total of 187 gallons of water was the average of each person a day.

After a very interesting meeting, the large crowd was served coffee and cookies. The next meeting will be June 3 and a movie will be shown on the Los Angeles Airport. Everyone is invited.

On Wednesday, May 8 in the home of Mrs. Ralph Robertson a group of women gathered to view and admire the new baby of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Milford of 1540 W. 226th St.

The ones on hand to "oh" and "ah" at little Pamela Jane were Betty Cook of Lawndale; Caroline Wade and Lois Britt of Torrance; Amber Cummins,

Lena Simmons, and Minnie Laney of Wilmington; Helen Person, Billie Rogers and Mary Joe Rogers of the Strip; Deanna McClendon of South Gate; and Louise Boulanger and Vina Milford Hawthorne. Each presented the new little gal with a lovely gift and Mrs. Jack Franklin of Lynwood sent a gift as she was unable to attend.

Tuesday evening in the Civic Auditorium the Cinderella Dancing Academy put on a lovely show for the parents and friends of the children who take dancing from this studio.

The children, of which there were 130, were under the direction of Kay and Don Farmer and the master of ceremonies was Bob Longfellow. They all did numbers, some by themselves and other by classes. The colorful costumes were a beautiful sight with the colored lights on the stage.

Everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves except one little girl who cried during her performance. Each child did a wonderful job to the full house which attended the entertainment. Many children from the Strip were in this program.

Little Lana Carrick is eight years old now. She celebrated her birthday in all the rain Saturday. Her sister Lauren, who is 10, also celebrated. They had their parties together. A nicer party was never had. Despite the rain and dampness the children played many games and had a big time.

The children who came and made the party a success were; Ronnie and Larry Tipton; Lana Robertson; Barbara and Brenda Plaskett; Diane and Mary Vary; Sandra and Sharon Salve; Earle Darrell; Mary Ellen Eurlock; Virginia Cawthon; Virgil Jacobson; Adjian Vandenhorell; Joan Butler; Tommy Freeman; and Karen Laurson. Those sending gifts but were unable to attend were; Diana Fragoza; Virgil Johnson; Patty and Dotty Cake; and Gloria and Patty Martinez.

The mother, Mrs. R. Carrick, seryed cake, punch, candy and ice cream to the hungry youngsters and presented each child with a gift before sending them home, tired but happy from having such a good time.

Don't forget, your boys are out selling tickets to the Scout Breakfast to be held Saturday, May 18. Buy your ticket and come; enjoy a time of entertainment, besides getting a fine meal, and be eligible for many of the prizes to be awarded to the person having the lucky tickets.

Three of our local Narbonne High School students walked off with high honors this past month.

At the Club Alondra during a panel discussion program sponsored by the Bank of America, Miss Pat McNeese, of 22105 South Denker Ave., spoke on "How mathematics and science have contributed to the pattern of living enjoyed in the United States today." She took second place in her division.

Roderick Bernardin, of 22600 Vermont Ave., spoke on fine arts and took third place. Then Karen Hamada, of 23012 Berendo Ave., came in to score second in her field of vocational arts.
