

Variety Show To Spoof Top Video Stars

On Friday and Saturday, Feb. 20th and 21st, Torrance High School will present its 12th Annual Variety Show in the Torrance High School Auditorium at 8 p.m.

This year's show, "Four Star Spectacular," promises to be one of the most hilarious and entertaining performances ever presented at the high school. The theme is based on four big name television shows namely those of Perry Como, Ed Sullivan, Dinah Shore, and Seve Allen.

Ken Robertson will be featured as Harry Como, Frank Corsentino as Fred Sullivan, Dana Cook as Diana Shore, and Danny Fulton as Cleve Allen. A variety of singers, dancers, musicians, and comedians will be included in the cast of more than 50 students. The orchestra will be under the direction of Gary Tiernan.

Little Girl Seeks Boxer

A little girl who was scratched by a big boxer dog at the Southwood Shopping Center last Thursday is going to have to take shots unless somebody can help her locate the owner of the dog that attacked her.

Linda Jean Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Crawford of 5106 Beran Street, was the victim of a chase which ended in a scratch on her leg by a boxer described as having a "brown face and wearing a big collar."

If the dog is not found within the next few days, her physician has advised her that she will be required to take anti-rabies shots.

Anyone who saw the incident or knows of a dog fitting this description is asked to contact Mrs. Crawford at FR 6-2771.

and the student producer is Ken Robertson. The faculty director of the variety show is James Nichols.

Torrance Man, Four Others Face Murder Preliminary on March 2

Four men and one woman, including a Torrance longshoreman, who are charged with killing a San Diego tavern owner, will have a preliminary hearing March 2.

Wilfred W. "Sonny" Robarge, 39, of Manhattan Beach, the last of the five arrested, has been arraigned. All are charged with murder conspiracy to commit robbery.

Others arrested include John Henry Thwaites, 45, of 2080 Middlebrook; Mrs. Jean Horton, 28, blonde Santa Monica waitress; Victor Buono, 50, former San Diego policeman and bail bond broker; and Ernest Murray, 45, appliance shop owner. Buono and Murray were both listed as residents of Perris.

Tony Mirable, 64-year-old wealthy bachelor, was found shot to death in his San Diego apartment the Saturday after Christmas. Police have reported Mirable was probably killed after resisting a robbery attempt. They have named Robarge as the actual killer. Thwaites was arrested with the blonde waitress by Los Angeles police who reported that the longshoreman was released from Folsom prison recently after serving eight years on robbery-kidnaping charges.
