

Tartar Teen Talk

By SHARON CLARK

On Tuesday, April 14, Torrance High's PTA held a fine arts program. Represented there were the high school drama and speech, music, and art departments. Sally Mason, zone finalist for the Lion's club contest, gave her winning speech, "Complacency, a Danger to America."

Representing the drama department was an original one-act play written by Lynn Keller. The play was called "The Education of Rutherford Pygmelion," and was a very funny comedy.

Charlotte Percy sang "Bali Hai," and Darryl Kelly sang "Some Enchanted Evening." Other singers in the program were Diana Cook, Barbara Davis, Nancy Hornbeck, Sue Larson, and the Debs.

Torrance High's dance band played "Peter Gunn," and the Madrigal Choir sang. Also accompanying the program were displays from the art and drama classes. All in all the program was very good and proved to be a big success.

THIS MONTH'S representative assembly was held Thursday, April 16th. The assembly is made up of representatives of each homeroom. The assembly acts as an advisory board to the Student Council. Its function is to make recommendations to the Student Council on controversial matters and other important activities on campus.

FRIDAY, April 17th was the day chosen for the Tartar Lady - Tartar Knight aud-cast, "Your Hit-less Parade." Walter Janoff served as master of ceremonies, and introduced the many acts. Among the acts presented were Carol Johnson and Donna Moore singing "Side by Side," Linda Sweet and Sue Hammack pantomiming "Don't Sing Along," Mary Margaret Blount, Carol Shinoda and Gerry Day dancing to "Get Gettin' Up in the Morning," Bob Pulliam, Tom Sass, Gail Nix, and Lynn Hyde doing a skit "Dr. Jekyll's Operation," Diana Cook singing "Embraceable You," Sue Saari and Carol Johnson pantomiming "Daddy Dear," Diane Hinshaw, Joyce Wayt, and Sally Mason dancing to "August Bells," Sue Hammack, Linda Sweet, and Judy Hagen pantomiming "Charlie Brown," Carol Shinoda and John Bentwood pantomiming "Delicious," and Mimi Cowan, Carol Surber, Susan Saari, Carol Johnson, Donna Moore, and chorus singing "There is Nothing Like a Guy."

Pep Boys to Hold Meeting

More than 350 employees of the Pep Boys, Manny, Moe and Jack Auto Supply Stores will convene Sunday at Rodger Young Auditorium in Los Angeles for their 27th Annual Sales Conference.

This year's meeting will be keyed with the slogan, "Business was great in '58," and is going to be fine in '59." Murray Rosenfeld, Pep Boys general manager stated that the assembled group will hear of the company's advertising and promotional plans for the balance of the year and will witness demonstrations and exhibits from Pep Boys key suppliers.

Company expansion plans will be revealed.

South High Freshman Wins Speech Trophy

SHELLY LESSIN

Shelly Lessin, freshman at South High School, was awarded third place in the dramatic interpretation division of the annual Orange Speech Tournament at Redlands University Saturday.

Nine hundred students representing high schools throughout Southern California entered the competitions, with over 150 of them trying for the dramatic interpretation trophy.

Shelly's trophy will be on display at South High School for the remainder of the semester. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lessin of 1423 1/2 Marcelina St.
