Following the message an opportunity will be given to contribute to the local anti-gambling movement. After the evening service a reception will be held for the new members.

'Faith for Today' Still Going Strong

The first religious network television program, "Faith for Today," sponsored by the Torrance Seventh-day Adventist Church and its fellow churches throughout North America, is still going strong. Glenn L. Goffar announced Saturday.

Pastor Goffar, minister of the Adventist church here, said that the shift in other religious programs has not yet affected "Faith for Today," which has been on the air now for seven years. "Mail coming in to the program headquarters in Forest Hills, N. Y., is healthy and heavy," he said. "And the program, though no longer on a network is carried by over 170 stations in addition to some overseas. It recently went on 17 new stations."

MISSION STUDY SLATED AT METHODIST CHURCH

An "International Night," featuring a smorgasbord, will climax a month-long school of mission study which begins this Sunday evening at 7 p.m. in the First Methodist Church, 1551 El Prado.

"Lands of Witness and Decision" is the theme for the programs which will be held each Sunday night during the month off February. Study will center around the Belgian Congo, Sarawak, Bolivia, and Korea.

"A Call to Witness and Decision," led by Rev. Don Shelby, will open the School of Missions this Sunday, after which two films, "Lands of Decision" and "Challenge of Africa" will be shown.

On Feb. 9th Rev. R. H. Firth of Long Beach will be the guest speaker. Rev. and Mrs. Coleman C. Hertzler, returned missionaries from the Congo, will present the program on Feb. 16. bert is in charge of enrollment.

Brimstone Boys To Ride Again Here Saturday

The notorious Brimstone Boys will ride again Saturday during the South Bay Center's spectacular Western Jamboree, Jan. 30th through Feb. 1st at 174th St. and Hawthorne Blvd.

Saturday's special attraction to the Brimstone Boys, as well as all the youngsters present, will be a sleek stagecoach and haywagon drawn by a spanking team of four horses. As the vehicles tour the Center all day to provide free rides for the youngsters, the desperadoes will stage realistic hold-ups as the stagecoach and haywagon make their rounds.

The Brimstone Boys are expert TV stuntmen. Johnny Newman, Blackie Charnes and Fresno Jack, who have "biten the dust" in many a thrilling Western movie. The boys formed a three-way partnership at the Lone Ranger Ranch where they discovered that the fake shootings and wild tussles in the dust were a great hit with their junior audiences.

They are all expert marksmen and make a point of using their act to educate the youngsters to the danger in firearms. They will demonstrate the explosive power of blanks when they are fired into empty tin cans to prove that the so-called "less explosion" could kill if handled carelessly.
