Riviera Art Classes to Begin Year

The Saturday morning art class at the Children's Studio of Arts, 179 Via Los Miradores is beginning its yearly program for children of grade school age. The class meets at 10 a.m. each Saturday, drawing and painting both in the studio and outdoors.

Several field trips are planned during the year to well-known art galleries for special children's features. Last week the children attended the showing of the art work of the children's summer classes at the PV art gallery, and then sketched outdoors at the library. The next scheduled trip will be the children's tour of the County Museum Art Galleries.

This is the third year of the existence of this class, which has given an opportunity to many boys and girls of this area to learn to express themselves artistically in spare time.

Art exhibits of the children's work will be announced throughout the year. Mrs. Laurence T. Dailey, sponsor, announces that Mrs. Roy Seidler will be teaching the class this year. Mrs. Seidler, a past president of the Torrance Art Group, has exhibited locally in one-man and group shows during the five years she and her family have been living in Los Angeles. Bette Seidler received her art training in New York City at the specialized High School of Music and Art, and at the Art Students' League.
