School Offers Aid in French

Parlez-vous Francais? Principal Raymond E. Collins of the Torrance Evening High School reports he might be able to correct the situation, if you would like to and can't.

"An acknowledged authority in our veterans problems, his views will be of great interest to all who are concerned in these matters," according to Commander Harold L. Brown of the United Veterans Council of Long Beach.

A course in conversational French is being offered by the Adult Education Department of the district each Monday and Wednesday evening at Torrance High School.

Representatives of the Torrance veteran groups, including the American Legion, VFW, and DAV, are being invited to attend the sessions, Commander Brown told the HERALD. Other civic and military are expected to attend.

The course will cover pronunciation, vocabulary building, and conversational practice. Tapes, records, and the latest methods of quick language learning will be used, Collins said.
