Vets Advised
On Problems
With VA Checks

Veterans, their survivors or dependents were offered some sound advice today by Veterans Service Officer Mrs. Sara R. Bridges on occasional problems which arise in the receipt of benefit checks from the Federal Veterans Administration.

Most important, she said, persons receiving checks to which they know they are not entitled should either return them or write to the VA for an explanation. Don't cash the check and spend it in such cases; sooner or later it will have to be repaid.

ON THE OTHER hand, if a veteran receives a check which is smaller in amount than that to which he is entitled, he may accept it and cash it without in any way waiving his right to claim the rightful amount.

A veteran's widow who remarries cannot continue receiving death pension, but the pension rights of the veteran's children continue in larger amount. However, any increase due the children cannot be granted by the Veterans Administration until the new certificate of marriage has been received and the VA adjusts and closes the widow's own pension account.

IF A VETERAN prefers, his benefit checks may be sent directly to his bank for deposit to his personal account. This is a convenience granted by law for veterans who for one reason or another are not at home when pension checks arrive in the mail.

The Veterans Service Officer said these are just a few of the points to be considered about pension and compensation checks and claims. She pointed out that her office, located at 1822 Gramercy Ave., will be glad to answer any questions that veterans, survivors or dependents may have about such matters. Call FA 8-7527.

Aeronca Makes
Major Change
In Sales Dept.

A major change in the organization of the Sales Department of Aeronca Manufacturing Corp.'s Defense Products Group was announced today. The new organization will completely integrate the sales activity into one unit which will include the Middletown, Ohio Division, Aerocal Division of Torrancia, and Aerospace Division of Baltimore, Md. Formerly, each division was responsible for its own sales.

The sales organization will be divided into five regions headed by John P. Lawler, vice president, Rutledge announced.

The Western Region, with headquarters in Torrancia, will be managed by H. M. Ross. Managing the Central Region will be W. E. Watkins who will be located in Dayton, Ohio. C. J. Doyle, with offices in Washington, D. C., will head the Eastern Region. Robert Ridpath will manage the Northeast Region with headquarters in the Boston area and the Southern Region headquarters in Huntsville, Alabama, will be managed by Lawrence Stanley.

In other changes in the sales organization, Roy Kievet has been named manager of Market Plannig and H.C. Pettit has been appointed manager, Advertising and Sales Promotion. "The new sales structure will provide Aeronca with an organization to meet the constantly growing competition in the defense business," Rutledge said. "Placing the Defense Products Group into a single sales organization will also provide the coordination needed to open new products areas," he said.
