

REV. VICTOR GLENN
Opens Tonight

World Traveler
To Open Talks
At Local Church

The Rev. Victor Glenn, world traveler and missionary evangelist, is to be the guest speaker at the mid-week service of the South Bay Church of God, 17661 Yukon Ave., according to an announcement just made by the Rev. Clifford Tierney, pastor. Services are to begin at 7:30 tonight.

The Rev. Mr. Glenn is the executive director of Faith Missions, Inc., with headquarters in Bedford, Ind., and with missionary outposts in Latin America, the Near East, and East Africa. Emphasizing the indigenous church activity, the organization sponsors scores of native ministers, teachers, and students, and conducts an African orphanage which cares for 375 youngsters, most of whom have been abandoned by their parents.

THIRTY American adult missionaries and their children are sponsored by Faith Missions. These American Christians are working primarily in Guatemala, Egypt, and Eritrea. The Rev. Mr. Glenn's life-giving interest in this missionary enterprise dates back to his birth in Egypt of missionary parents. Educated in Egypt and America, Mr. Glenn assumed the directorship of Faith Missions several years ago and has promoted its increase in activity and extension.

The Rev. Mr. Glenn is a popular radio minister, with broadcasts heard daily in many parts of America. In the Los Angeles area, he is heard at 7:30 each evening on KGER and on Sundays at 12:30 p.m.

Garrett Corp.
Names Oulie
As Plans Head

Kendell Oulie, well known in Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce committee groups and national marketing research circles, has been appointed director of planning for The Garrett Corp., it was announced by K. B. Wolfe, executive vice president.

As director of planning Oulie will recommend the establishment of planning policies and assist in the development of control methods, acquisition analyses, organizational structures, and administrative surveys for Garrett's eight divisions and two subsidiaries. He replaces John W. Calvert who recently became manager of marketing services.

PERMANENT chairman of the steering committee for Business Outlook Conferences sponsored by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, he has also held office in a number of national and local marketing organizations, including chairmanship of the West Coast Council of Market Research Directors.

Oulie first joined Garrett in 1959, serving as assistant to the director of planning. From 1950 to 1959 he had been marketing research manager for the General Petroleum Corp.

An infantry officer during World War II, Oulie organized the Army loyalty investigation program for the eight western states. He later served as War Department White House liaison officer and assistant secretary for the late General Marshall and is presently a Colonel in the Army Reserve.
