Polaroid J.66: More Camera For Less Money

The Polaroid J.66 costs less than the first Land Camera model introduced more than 12 years ago! It takes the same large pictures—but with what a difference! It's fully automatic. There are no settings you have to make. An electric eye chooses the exposure. You don't have to focus. You don't need an expensive light meter. The flash gun is built in too. And your picture is ready in just 10 seconds.

There are 12 years of improvements, refinements and brand new ideas in this camera. And yet it actually costs less than the first Land Camera on the market.

If you've always wanted a Polaroid Land Camera—and who hasn't?—this is your chance. Come in for a Free Demonstration.

CELEBRATION LEADERS... Civic leaders directing Armed Forces Day festivities here next Saturday are (from left) Harold Frenz, trophy chairman; John Wallace, general chairman; Jewell Lain, Miss Armed Forces; Lt. Col. Robert Lewellen, exhibit area chairman; and Robert Vroman, luncheon chairman. Trophies in the background will be awarded to the best units in the huge military parade which is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m.

First Public Showing in Area Of 'Skybolt' Set Here Saturday

The first public showing in the West of the nation's newest and most mobile nuclear deterrent, the Skybolt air-launched ballistic missile, is to be a featured part of the mammoth Armed Forces Day Parade and Celebration here Saturday.

Wheel-mounted, the great striking weapon will constitute Float No. 42 in the long sequence of units to pass in review during the parade. After the parade, the missile will be on exhibit with an array of other weapons in a 30-acre display area next to the Torrance City Hall. The parade begins at 11 a.m. and the public is invited to inspect the exhibits on display.

OF MAJOR significance in the national defense pattern, the Skybolt development program was initiated by Douglas Aircraft Co., Santa Monica, two years ago. As prime contractor for airframe, assembly, and test of the weapon, Douglas is associated in the program with Aerojet-General of Azusa for propulsion, Northrop Corp., Hawthorne, for the guidance system, and General Electric Co. for the re-entry nose cone.

Designed to give the Strategic Air Command a 1000-mile, hypersonic, atomic punch for its B-52 fleet, the Douglas-Boeing combination B-52 and Skybolt integration has resulted in a fully compatible system under the direction of the Wright Air Development Division of the Air Force's Air Research and Development Command.

AIR FORCE, Douglas and subcontractor personnel have been given orientation training in order to make the nuclear deterrent weapon operational in 1964 for both the U.S. B-52's and Britain's Vulcan jet bombers.

The Torrance preview of the weapon will be one of several missile systems exhibited in the informational displays set up by the four Armed Forces to celebrate the occasion. Theme of the Day is "Power for Peace."

Ascot Hosts Big Machines

Fiery Bob Hogle, the Buena Park Kid, today was listed as top favorite in Saturday night's third running of the California Racing Association Big Cars at Ascot Park, 183rd and Vermont, Gardena.

Hogle really earned the rating with his impeccable showing last Saturday night when he walked off with his first major CRA 30-lap main event win.

Saturday night's show will be another eight-race, 30-lap main event racefest for the mighty Big Cars. They then take off for ten days in Arizona, returning to Ascot for a huge 100-lap Indianapolis Tribute on Memorial Day night, May 30.
