(Continued from Page 11) whether or not the fellow who is taking his 15-year-old daughter out is a licensed driver. You are his most valuable possession and should not resent it when he places a high value on your safety.

Dear Ann Landers: What can a girl do when she is married and finds out after almost two years of trying to be a good wife and mother that she is still in love with the fellow she used to go steady with in high school?

I bumped into my old flame after not having seen him for a year and a half. Something clicked in both of us. Now he tells me he wants me to marry him and this is what I want, too. I am too young to have my whole life ruined because of one mistake. Please tell me what does a gal in my fix do?

—TOO YOUNG TO DRY UP
Dear Too Young: A gal "in your fix" can grow up. When a gal marries too young (as you did) there's trouble as soon as the excitement dies down and reality sets in.

You've made your decision, now stick with it and make it work. Too often, that glamorous second marriage turns out to be a bigger flop than the first one.

If alcohol is robbing you of some of the love of life, and dignity, read for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
