Market Chain To Give Tickets For Hit Comedy

Almost 1,500 tickets to the new Metro-Goldwyn Mayer comedy, "The Honeymoon Machine," will be given away to customers by Food Giants Markets, throughout the greater Los Angeles area, it was announced. Every Food Giant Market will give away 34 tickets to 17 lucky people, good for admission to any neighborhood theater or drive-in, showing the new comedy smash. Tickets will be good at any time from Aug. 2 through Aug. 8.

Anyone can win two tickets by depositing their name and address in a replica of the Honeymoon Machine, on display in every Food Giant Market. Winners will be drawn on August 1 and need not be present at the drawing.

Food Giant's General Manager, Al Goldstein, said that the drawing for the free tickets is in line with Food Giant policy of always giving customers a little bit more in service and value than is usual. He added that this is one way of Food Giant showing customers that they appreciate and value each customer in every store.

The new MGM comedy stars Steve McQueen, Brigid Bazlen, Paula Prentiss, Jim Hutton and Dean Jagger. It is the story of a machine that "runs on love" and opens in the Los Angeles area Aug. 2.

Driving too slow is a term that most drivers don't understand nor does a driver receiving a citation for driving too slow understand why he is receiving a citation. Most people that drive too slow or impede normal traffic have no idea they are doing so.

They had no idea of the effect they have on the normal traffic flow. One slow moving vehicle, particularly one driving down the middle of the roadway, can affect as many as hundreds of cars. The one slow moving vehicle can cause as many as 100 or more vehicles to the rear to start lane changing, thus a hazard is created.

The way to overcome this problem is to drive the posted speed limit provided it is safe to do so. If traffic gets backed up behind you, allow it to pass. If you are driving under the posted speed limit, use the right side of the roadway, and when driving in moderate to heavy traffic, try and maintain your speed with the normal traffic flow.

ANY VEHICLE moving slower than the normal flow of traffic at a given place and time shall be driven in the right lane of the roadway, or as far to the right as is safe. (V.C. Section 2-1654.)

Remember also that you must not drive so slowly as to be a danger on the road, or so as to interfere with the normal or reasonable movement of traffic. Officers may arrest you for driving too slow as well as for driving too fast. But this is not true when slow speed is slow; or when you cannot go any faster because of a steep grade. (V.C. Sec. 22400.)

On roadways where a minimum speed is posted, you may not drive slower than the posted minimum speed except when necessary for safety or compliance with law. (V.C. Sec. 22400.)

On a two-lane highway where passing is unsafe because of traffic moving in the opposite direction or other conditions, a slow-moving vehicle that is followed by five or more vehicles in line, shall turn off the highway at the nearest place shown as a "turn-out" by signs. The vehicles following shall then be permitted to pass. (V.C. Sec. 21656.)

4. When driving upon any narrow or winding roadway.

5. When you come upon any special dangers like these:

- Pedestrians
- A bicycle rider
- Slow-moving vehicles
- Railroads
- School zones and playgrounds
- A school safety patrol
- A crossing guard
- Bad roads
- Yellow crosswalks marked for school children's use.

You should slow down when there are children walking or playing in or near the street. Children often do not watch for cars, so you must be especially careful.

You should always slow down after dark or at times when you cannot see clearly, as in fog or rain. Driving on an open highway on a rainy night at 25 miles per hour may be too fast, so that it becomes a violation of the basic speed law.

IT WOULD be appreciated if you readers would submit questions to this column and each week this column will answer your question. Please address your letters, cards, or phone calls to Lt. D. Nash, Traffic Div., Torrance Police, FA 8-3456.

Torrance Youths Leave For Stay In Summer Camp

More than 130 teenagers, including four Torrance youths, leave Monday for two weeks camping vacations at the Crippled Children's Society's two resident camps, Paivika in the mountains and Joan Mier at the seashore.

The following four teenagers from Torrance are enrolled in the forthcoming camping session: Norma Jean Root, 15, 814 Foothill Ave., Torrance; Frances Lawton, 13, 21036 Shearer Ave., Torrance; Kathryn Barry, 13, 16905 S. Crenshaw, Torrance; and Cheryl Brunger, 13, 23911 Fulmas Ave., Lomita. The first three are scheduled to attend Camp Paivika while Miss Brunger will go to Camp Joan Mier.

Teensters from 13 to 15 years will participate in a program of swimming, nature study, horseback riding, archery, campfire shows and other traditional camping activities, all adapted to the abilities of the individual camper. The society ratio of one counselor to every four campers makes possible this type of individual attention and provides the completely personal care which the more seriously handicapped require.

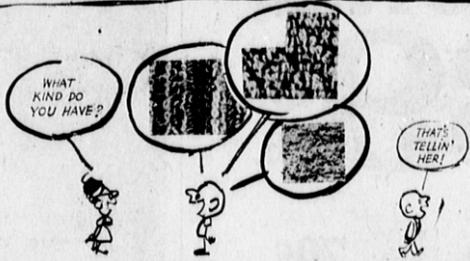

WHEN YOU SHOULD SLOW DOWN:

Even when there are no speed limit signs to guide you, you should always slow down and look for other cars, people, or animals on the highway under these conditions:

- When you come to or cross an intersection or railway grade crossing.
- When you come to or go around a curve.
- When you come to the top or crest of a hill.
