Student Cast Opens 'Madwoman' Tonight

Tickets for the El Camino College production "Madwoman of Chailiot" are now on sale in the campus student store, Burnett Ferguson, theater arts director, has announced.

Admission to tonight's opening will be $1.50 for the general public. All seats will be reserved.

Rehearsals for the fall production are now complete with Susan Michael of Inglewood cast in the lead role.

MISS MICHAEL'S part as the "Madwoman" is her first in the EC theater division. She has appeared in Los Angeles City College productions "Elizabeth, the Queen" and "House of Bernarda Alba."

The actress is 20 years old and is a theater arts major. She was chosen as the lead in a cast of 33.

Settings for the comedy by Jean Ciraudoux were being constructed by student stage set crews under the direction of Les Thomas.

The two-act play features a Paris sidewalk cafe as the first set and the madwoman's chamber as the second set.

DIRECTION of the production is headed by Ferguson and Miss Carolyn Nowell, student director from Inglewood. Assistant producer is Shirley Turk of Manhattan Beach.

Lighting is directed by Tom Johnson of Redondo Beach.

Miss Saralee Murma, Redondo Beach; Miss Laura Levelle, Hawthorne, and Miss Barbara Emes, Lawndale, are in charge of costumes for the cast.

SUPPORTING roles in the winter production are played by Dave Marshall, Inglewood; Craig Thompson, Torrance; Pat Lester, Hawthorne; Mike Hootor and Sally Slatter, both of Torrance; Noel Shire, Inglewood, and Margaret Weatherly of Hawthorne.

Others in the cast are Gail Wilkins, Jerry Goldbach, Shirley Turk, Cliff Potts, all of Manhattan Beach; Willie Inman, Zeke Montanez, of Hawthorne, and Jan Planz, Ila Archibald, Bobbie Berk, Craig

Thompson, Carolyn Waddingham and Jeanne Appel, all of Torrance.

COMPLETING the cast is Carol Stuppler, Gardena; Dennis Scholl, Manhattan Beach; Dale Hall, El Segundo; Dave Marshall, Inglewood; Jerry Cole and Jim Coleman, of Redondo Beach; Richard Crowell, El Segundo; Isabella Baratucci, Inglewood; Steve Rinaldi, Redondo Beach and Jeanette Kado of Hawthorne.

The play will premiere at 8:30 p.m. in the college Campus Theatre.

Harbor Debate Team Takes Top Tourney Spots

Harbor College carried away honors from the Southern California Collegiate Forensic Assn. Tournament at El Camino College recently.

In Impromptu Speaking, Robert R. Johnson won a first place speaking on the subject, "Japan: Ally or Neutral?"

In impromptu speaking, the participant is handed an editorial, the subject which is not known to the contestant beforehand. He is allowed five minutes to study the editorial and must then speak on the subject of the editorial without any preparation.

Gladys Dickinson won a second place award speaking on the subject, "Gen. Maxwell Taylor's Accomplishments in Southeast Asia."

OTHER participants in Impromptu Speaking included Eleanor Allison, Richard Kidd, and Jimmie Morrow.

In the debate tournament, two teams won their point in debating the topic: Resolved, That labor organizations should be under the jurisdiction of antitrust legislation.

The team of Gary Parnell and Steve Smouse were awarded a certificate of excellence for winning two out of three rounds, defeating Orange Coast College and Claremont Men's College.

The affirmative team of William Watson and Glenn Little defeated a team from Claremont Men's College in their own official debate of the day. Other debaters included Francine Hovde, Nils Kristiansen, Antonio Doles, David Doherty and Robert R. Johnson.
