Boy Scout Appears On Queen For a Day

John Sohner of 3204 Danaha St., was one of four Boy Scouts appearing on nationally televised ABC Queen for a Day "special show" broadcast Friday.

Although he was not elected Boy Scout King for a Day, John's wish will be granted, and he will join the other candidates in a whirl of Hollywood.

Each of the Boy Scout candidates selected from the studio audience to be interviewed on the show by M.C. Jack Bailey will receive a term at scout summer camp, a bicycle, an electric shoe polisher, a watch, and a pair of binoculars. They joined "King Larry" Clark of Pico-Rivera in a tour of Hollywood, lunching with Duke Snider at the Brown Derby, visiting Warner Brothers studios, and dinner at a famous restaurant. They were "guests of honor" when the entire studio audience of more than 900 boys attended the ice hockey game between the Los Angeles Blades and the Canutes on Tuesday.

DURING HIS interview, 12-year-old John told the audience he had originally planned to "wish" for a set of drums. He plays in the Gardena Band, he added. However, just before coming to the show he learned that the family television set of a young friend had broken and the family could not afford to have it repaired. And the young scout changed his wish from something for himself to "a television set for my friend."

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sohner and his own family includes two sisters.

Larry's wish was for a "complete Cub Scout uniform for a young friend who is blind." The young cub must have a complete uniform to march in the parades with his troop, Larry explained, and the young boy wanted very much to join his patrol in their reviews.

OTHER BOYS appearing on the show included 9-year-old Cub Scout Richard Pesqueira of Los Angeles, and 9-year-old Cub Scout Edmond Lewis, also of Los Angeles.

After the coronation of the King, M.C. Jack Bailey announced to the delighted audience of more than 900 Cubs and Boy Scouts from the Los Angeles area, that because each of the four candidates had wished for something that would help others, each of the boys would be granted his wish.

Survival Film To Be Shown Tuesday Night

"Survival—Then and There," called the first definitive film on Civil Defense, will be presented next Tuesday at 8:45 p.m. at Temple Menorah in Redondo Beach.

The 45-minute film will be introduced by Larry Blake, public information and education officer of Civil Defense District 31, City of Los Angeles, who will answer questions from the audience following the showing.

Admission is free and the public is cordially invited, says Irving Chaiken, president of the Temple Brotherhood, sponsor of the program. The recently completed Temple is located at 1101 Camino Real, at the Redondo Beach - Torrance city line.

"We wonder if that fabulous French chef, whose White House triumphs have been so well publicized, can serve up a dish of crow in appetizing form." — W. R. Smith, Cochran (Ga.) Journal.

You Can't Bat From the Bench, Lions Club Told

William M. Fisher, Southern California Gas Co. consultant speaker, addressed the Torrance Lions Club Tuesday at their luncheon meeting.

Fisher, former Eastern Division commercial manager for the utility firm, entitled his address "You Can't Bat From the Bench," an inspirational challenge designed to stimulate worthwhile projects and campaigns in the community.

Fisher originally entered the utility industry in 1921 when he was employed by Los Angeles Gas and Electric Co., a predecessor of the present Southern California Gas Co. A native of Pennsylvania, he has attended both the University of California and the University of Southern California. He retired recently from full employment at Southern California Gas Co.

A past president of the YMCA, Fisher is currently a national council, national board, and San Bernardino Area board member of the organization.

Industrial and civic interests have made Fisher a member of the Pacific Coast Gas Assn., chairman of the San Bernardino County Probation Committee, and past director of the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce. In addition, he is past president and past lieutenant governor of Kiwanis International and chairman of community campaigns such as the Red Cross, YMCA capital funds, and Community Chest.
