Garden Checklist

1. Start planning for winter color by planting Sweet Peas this month.
2. Mildew is ever a threat in late July and August. Roses are better sprayed before mildew shows up, not after. The same goes for Begonias.
3. Feed your lawn if it's been over a month since the feeding.
4. Lift and divide crowded clumps of tall bearded iris. Plant new varieties from your nursery, too.
5. Every type of shrub or tree can be planted from nursery containers at this time of year.
