

Seven More Get Degrees In Medicine

Seven additional Torrance residents have received doctor of medicine degrees in graduation ceremonies at the California College of Medicine in Los Angeles, it was announced yesterday. A previous announcement published in The HER-ALD on July 19 listed another seven Torrance physicians receiving the degree. Reported yesterday were Gary F. Hathaway, Blaine L. Montgomery, Wyndham W. Mooring, Glenn M. Moss, Samuel J. Paltin, Frederick A.

Strange, and Charles Misao Usui. Previously announced were Clyde J. Barnes, Allan T. Brown, James S. Burrell, Theodore C. Buzanis, Donald G. Cortum, Duane E. Ewers, and Hampton L. Fancher Jr.

The college previously was known as the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons. The local residents were among the nearly 2,000 receiving the degrees as the latest step taken toward the unification of the state's doctors of medicine and doctors of osteopathy. The proposed unification will be carried on California's general election ballot in November as Proposition 22. The daily average of non-fatal accidents in the United States reaches the astronomical figure of 127,750, according to the Greater Los Angeles Chapter of the National Safety Council.

Local Girl Participates In Workshop

Carol Mathlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mathlin, 1115 Cerise Ave., participated in the drama workshop segment of the first International Christian Writers Seminar at Green Lake, Wis., July 7-14.

Miss Mathlin, a junior at the University of Redlands, performed with the college's Drama Trio in presenting a series of plays to the seminar which drew students from 31 different countries.

Sixty-four nationals attended the caucus to learn new techniques for writing and producing literature, drama, and journalism to project the principles of freedom and Christianity.
