

Whitneys To Leave On World Tour

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Whitney and daughter, Margo, of Miraleste, will leave by plane Saturday afternoon on a three-months trip around the world.

The Whitneys will fly to Tokyo, their first stop. Main stops on their itinerary are Hongkong, Singapore, Bangkok, Calcutta, New Delhi, and Cairo, Egypt; Athens, Greece; and Rome, Italy.

The travelers will tour the continent, going to Switzerland, down to Paris and to Madrid, Spain, where they will fly to London. After some time in the British Isles, the trio will fly to Amsterdam, Holland for another tour before going to the Scandinavian countries. Flying from Copenhagen, they will arrive home in time for Thanksgiving.

Prior to their departure Saturday, a farewell luncheon will be given in their honor in the Theme room at the International Airport restaurant. Hosts for the affair are Messrs. and Mmes. B. T. Kenney, A. F. R. Ewalt, and J. E. Stavert.

Luau Planned

YOUR PROBLEMS

by Ann Landers

'YOU Should Not Mark Resting Place of Man With Wife, Family . . .'

Dear Ann Landers: The man I loved passed away three months ago. He was married and had a family. I worked with this man for several years, and even divorced my husband in hope that he would free himself and marry me—but it never happened.

We spent four or five evenings a week together so his wife must have known there was somebody else. We never discussed his home life. It was a forbidden subject. I lived one day at a time and was grateful for the hours we had together.

I did not attend the funeral. I was so broken up I couldn't trust myself emotionally. I do go to the cemetery every other week and place flowers on his grave, however.

There is no headstone of any kind to mark his resting place. It hurts me to see his grave so barren and plain-looking. I would like to buy a lovely headstone and place it there "anonymously." No one need know who did it. Would this be proper?—NO NAME

Dear No Name: At least one religious faith prohibits the placing of a headstone until one year after the burial.

In any event, you should not take it upon yourself to mark the resting place of a man who has a wife and family. They would surely know—and it might cause them great unhappiness.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm very much interested in a young woman. She is interested in me, too—or so she says. Also, she is interested in three other gentlemen.

We four have known each other for years and in the vernacular, "there ain't no flies on any of us." We've discussed the problem many times in a half-joking, half-serious manner, and it is obvious that none of us wishes to bow out of the picture.

What can be done about a femme fatale (in her mid-twenties by the way) who won't make up her mind? — ONE OF FOUR HORSEMEN

Dear Horse: If she won't make up her mind, why don't you make up yours—and reduce the mob-scene by one?

Once you start dating others and make it obvious you are no longer in the competition she'll probably decide you were the one she wanted all along. Women are funny that way. (Yes, and so are men.)

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an average secretary who works downtown. My problem is this: During the summer there isn't a great deal to keep me busy. My files are neat, my desk-top clean, and I'm actually a little bored.

Since my boss is out of the city much of the time during this season, I'm supposed to take my instructions from his assistant, who is a woman. Several times in the last few weeks when I've asked her for little jobs to do, she has told me to dust the furniture, wash the boss' desk, straighten the catalogues, move the fans, etc.

I consider this janitor's work and I resent her asking me to do it. Yesterday I was frank about my feelings and she replied, "This is part of your job." Is it, or isn't it?—JANITORIAL SECRETARY

Dear Girl: Show me a secretary who has never washed a desk-top, or moved a fan and I'll show you a mighty poor employee.

You bet it's part of the job, and you should do it willingly. (P. S. The mark of a big person is his willingness to do little things. They call this quality "humility.")

Confidential to SORRY FOR HER: If you give her what she wants only because she has the tear-ducts of an orphaned onion-peeler, then you're the dunce.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How to Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. # Travel Fashions Spark CDA Show For Sept. 20

Fashions for travel the world over will be featured at the annual fashion show presented by Court St. Catherine, Catholic Daughters of America, on Thursday, Sept. 20, at 8 p.m. in the Nativity Parish Annex, corner of Engracia and Arlington Avenues, Torrance.

The various chairmen under the direction of Mrs. Harvey Lee are busy with many plans to make the evening interesting and entertaining. Serving with Mrs. Lee as committee chairmen are Mmes. Don Bryant and Louis Derouin, models; Joseph Cemore and Harry Hamilton, decorations; Gordon Cady and George Rauch, programs; Andrew Rable and Robert O'Brien, tickets; Charles Butterfield and Gordon Hicks, refreshments; Richard Ban, hostesses; Lloyd Landerville, and Ralph Sullivan, door prizes.

Welcoming guests and introducing the commentator, Mrs. Laurence Derouin, a past grand regent of the court, will be Mrs. Robert Klaesges, Grand Regent of Court St. Catherine.

The annual show is the court's biggest fund-raising event of the year. All proceeds go toward the many worthwhile charities the court supports which includes Camp Teresita Pines, a summer camp for girls, and the partial monthly support of a priest brother at Trinity Missions in Silver Springs, Maryland.

Two local shops will furnish clothes which will be modeled by members of the court and their daughters. Included are: Mmes. Gerald Young, William Hardesty, Joseph Rubio, Lyle Freckleton, Elles Cook, John Barth, Robert Rodina, James Fornelli, Leonard Young, Rudolph Peters. Also Misses Sarina Lee, Sandra Derouin, Cathy Klaesges, Diane Landerville, and Barbara Bryant.

Many door prizes will be awarded during the evening and refreshments will be served. The public is invited. Tickets are available from any court member and at the door that evening.

POLITICAL TV PROGRAM ON SUNDAY

"Political Primer," television program sponsored by the League of Women Voters of California, will switch to a Sunday spot this week.

The program will be broadcast on KNXT, Channel 2, at 5 p.m. each Sunday until the November election.

Interviews with candidates for state office will be featured.

Xi Gammas Will Begin New Year

Xi Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will open its 1962-63 club year on Sunday, Sept. 2, with a Beginning Day meeting at 3:30 p.m. at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles Lockwood, 16709 Elgar Ave., Torrance.

The Chapter committee chairmen will have charge of the program which is planned around the international theme "Doors to Success." A buffet supper will be served following the program.

Hadassah Will Begin Year Sept. 4

Mrs. Max Stern, president of the South Bay Chapter of Hadassah, announces that the first meeting of the season will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 11 a.m. in the Community Room of the American Savings and Loan Assn. in the South Bay Center at 1959 Kingsdale Ave.

Mrs. Harold Strauss, vice president of the West Coast Region of Hadassah and advisor to the South Bay chapter, will be a guest at the meeting.

Lunch will be served, followed by a social afternoon and members are asked to make up their own tables for cards. Members in need of transportation to the meeting place are asked to call Mrs. Ben Conde.

All women in the area interested in learning more about Hadassah are invited to attend.

Gala Party Fetes Diana

At a pink and yellow bedecked front door at her home, 21901 Marjorie Ave., last Monday morning, Diana Marie Blahnik, greeted her guests who arrived to help her celebrate her fourth birthday.

Diana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Blahnik, welcomed Diane Emerson, Linda and Debbie Hall and Lynne Kezon. Also on hand to participate in the celebration were her sisters, Celia, Claudia and Tricia.

Luncheon was served in the patio which was festively decorated with yellow and pink streamers.

Several games were played and the birthday cake and ice cream were served as the little guests sang "Happy Birthday."

Birthday Dinner

A dinner was given at the Pen & Quill hotel-restaurant in Manhattan Beach for Mr. and Mrs. John Senkowski of Hawthorne, who were noting her birthday anniversary. Hosting the party were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wyman of Torrance.
