MUSICAL GIFT . . . Mrs. Betty Thomas of the Betty Thomas Studio, gives an accordion to Mrs. Roy Phillips, who is collecting items on behalf of the West Torrance Nazarine Church for the Navy's project handclasp. Items collected will be delivered by the hand and given to people in Far Eastern countries. Some 300 books, a portion in background, were donated by the Torrance library. The studio at 1215 Crenshaw Blvd. is serving as a collection point for such items as usable clothing, toys, books, and musical instruments.

... Employe

(Continued from Page 1) hoped it would come before my retirement, but as Omar said, 'the moving finger writes and moves on,' and so shall we," he added. C. Leonard was the first assigned working staff man to HGH and recalled that he not only inventoried the Army's turnover, but even helped mow the weeds. The hospital was built as a Port of Embarkation unit by the Army during World War II and sold to the county in 1946.

A REMARKABLE man is Edney. He has faced lions in Africa, rode open cockpit planes without a safety belt fastened during loop-the-loops, is an expert horseman, served in the cavalry chasing Pancho Villa in 1916, was a runner (messenger) under fire in World War I, wild catted in Texas oil fields, broke up a flourishing charity racket ring, and pulled a multi-millionaire from a riptide off Santa Monica.

C. Leonard was born in Johannesburg, South Africa, where his father was barnstorming plays with a bullock drawn cart as a stage. His exciting life nearly ended at the age of three days. Two dynamite laden trains collided near the Edney home but mother and child miraculously escaped death as walls and ceilings came tumbling down.

EDNEY'S MOTHER, incidentally, is Annie Edney, 94, opera and musical comedy fame now living in Westwood. From South Africa the Edneys went to London's stage and finally to the United States and became citizens.

Among C. Leonard's friends in 1915 was Gloria Swanson and he has a little black book with her name and Chicago address to prove it to the "doubting Thomases."

While serving in France with the 391st he went "over the top" as a "runner," got lost in "no man's land" and nearly entered the German trenches but was contacted by another runner just in time.

A FRIEND took him up in an open cockpit "Jenny" in the early 20s, did aerial gymnastics and was horrified on landing to discover that C. Leonard had neglected to fasten his safety belt.

Last January at age 66, C. Leonard passed the 20-hour skin diving course prescribed by the County's Park and Recreation Department and became an accredited scuba diver.

"I'm going to do underwater photography during our world tour so I wanted to learn scuba diving," Edney explained. "That's why I didn't give my age to the instructor. I was afraid he would disqualify me."

That's C. Leonard, if he wants to do something, he ups and does it.

It wouldn't be surprising if he catches the sun!

Scholarship Program Announced by Utility

The fourth year of the Southern California Edison Co.'s College Scholarship Award program was announced yesterday by L. E. Jenkins, Edison's Redondo Beach district manager. Edison will award six scholarships again this year, offering winners $4,000 for tuition and expenses during a normal four-year course at their choice of 15 participating private colleges and universities. In addition, the college attended by each will be given a direct grant of $3,000 during the four-year period.

or attending school in Edison's service territory are eligible to compete. They may learn full details by obtaining a copy of the Edison College Scholarship Program brochure from their school guidance counselor or from their nearest Edison office.

"Purpose of this program is to help promising students reach their educational goals and, at the same time, ease some of the financial pressures on private colleges," Mr. Jenkins said.

EVERYONE HAS THEIR UMPS AND DOWNS

Brochures describing the Edison Scholarship program have been sent to high schools throughout the electric company's service area in 10 southern and central California counties. High school seniors living in
