Celebrating an anniversary during recent weeks has been the Tiki-Kai Polynesian restaurant.

Opening for lunches Monday through Friday beginning at 11 a.m. is the Polynesian Restaurant in Waverly.

Mrs. Grace Pisciotto of Mr. Paul's (the best spaghetti you ever eat) is thanking everyone for the wonderful response to the recent grand opening.

Gwen Harmon and "The Players," a captivating vocal and instrumental group opened this week at the Marinerland Restaurant in Palos Verdes, marking their initial

Bruce Reagan Rally Here

Bruce V. Reagan, Republican candidate for State Controller, will speak at the West Torrance Republican headquarters, 4735 Torrance Blvd., Friday evening, Oct. 19, at 8 o'clock.

Scheduled for Reagan is an old-fashioned Republican rally complete with brass band, searchlights, and a motorcade of autos carrying members of 46th Assembly District Republican clubs to the rally. The rally is scheduled to get under way at 7 p.m., an hour before Reagan's talk.

Doug Austin Tabbed As 'Exciting on Ice'

Douglas Austin, the 28-year-old skating star from Denver, Colo., has been tabbed as "one of the most exciting performers on ice," as a result of his solo number in "Camelot," which is featured during the New Faces 22nd Edition of Ice Capades, coming to Long Beach Arena starting on Nov. 27.

Tutored by John Lettengar

ver, Austin has been skating since the age of 12, learning the sport in Seattle. His specialty on the New Faces Edition is one of the many features among the 10 great productions and 20 exciting acts coming your way.

Doug was one of the "ambassadors on ice" from the United States who represented the Ice Capades troupe that toured to Russia in 1961. He says his appearance before the Muscovites was his most thrilling experience to date.

Like all the stars of Ice Capades, Doug is a taskmaster and his own severest critic. A former ballet graduate, he is a born perfectionist and strives constantly to improve his skating technique and his act.

Austin's hobby is producing home movies, but his number one ambition is to be rated among the very best in his chosen profession.

Ten major production sequences form the backbone of the "out-of-this-world" New Faces Edition. Leading off with a spectacular "Salute to Lerner and Loewe" which brings to the ice delightful vignettes of "Camelot," "My Fair Lady," "Brigadoon," and "Paint Your Wagon" the current production also offers "Disneyrama," Tchaikovsky's "Fifth Symphony," Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody," "Precision in Rhythm" plus the intriguing "Circus on Ice."

Local Women Bow to Man

Home-making has always been a woman's province, but this year it took a mere man to walk off with top honors in the domestic arts division of the Los Angeles County Fair.

Walter H. Jones, retired railroad man of Stockton, made 76 entries in the culinary section and won top money to lead all competitors. Mrs. Amelia Bates of Anaheim was second place money winner scoring with a high percentage of her 75 entries.

A total of 1432 individuals from 8 to 94 years of age entered in all divisions. Entries came from all over the United States and as far away as Australia.

Local winners included Isabelle R. Slater, 5005 Macafee Road, who won nine awards plus a Merit Award Trophy; Mrs. Suzanne DiLuzio, 5409 Calle Mayor; Mrs. Geraldine Miller, 5401 Calle De Ricardo; Grant Ave.; Mrs. Minnie L. Clough, 3343 W. 170th St.; Mrs. Betty Graybehl, 1122 Maple Ave., and Rosalie Weber, 23002 Kathryn Ave.

Showing this weekend at the Roadium Theater is "The Vikings," starring Kirk Douglas, Tony Curtis, and Janet Leigh.

Hint for Halloween

Halloween is almost upon us, a fun time of "trick or treat" for the youngsters. You can make this one a worry-free Halloween for yourself with some safety planning for the little spooks.

Kids in dark clothes and black faces are practically invisible to motorists until it's too late. Make light-colored costumes—of flame proof material—and as an extra precaution fasten some reflecting tape to hats, broomsticks or anything else the youngsters may be carrying. Keep the costumes short, so there'll be no falls, and with no streamers to catch on hedges or fences.

Use cosmetics and burnt cork to make up the children's faces. Masks are difficult to see through, and there's always the danger of suffocation with very young children.

On a raid, Viking chief Ernest Borgnine assaults the British Queen, who sends away her child, born of this union. Twenty years later, the Vikings kidnap Janet Leigh and Borgnine's brutal son, Kirk Douglas, tries to assault her. She repulses him and is befriended by a slave, Tony Curtis, who is actually Borgnine's son and heir to the British throne.

When the English kill Borgnine and betray Curtis, he sails with Douglas on a revenge raid, although the two are enemies. After defeating the English, Douglas learns that Curtis is his brother, but fights him anyway.

Curtis kills Douglas, winning the British throne, the Viking kingdom, and Princess Janet Leigh.

DON'T LET a child carry a candle or torch. A flash light, preferably with a plastic lens, inside a lantern or pumpkin head can be just as effective and a lot safer.

No sharp objects, please, not even wooden ones. If you can't buy rubber swords, knives or what have you, leave out that type of equipment.

Try to work out some inconspicuous supervision of the very little ones to avoid later heartbreak. Two or three mothers taking turns can do this job. Older children may thoughtlessly leave a youngster straggling behind, where he can get into trouble.
