

Sacred Torch Rites Slated Veterans Day

Torches from six foreign nations are arriving for the third annual Veterans Day Sacred Torch Ceremony. Lewis K. Gough, co-chairman of the veterans committee of the President's people-to-people program, reported yesterday. Participating nations will be Belgium, France, England, Israel, Mexico, and Italy.

Because Veterans Day, Nov. 11, falls on a Sunday this year, the traditional 11 o'clock ceremony will begin at 2 p.m. to avoid conflict with church services, Gough said.

With an anticipated audience of more than 2,000, the sacred procession will take place in the Court of Freedom at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale. Similar programs honoring all veterans who fought for the cause of freedom will be conducted at Arlington National Cemetery in the East, and at the War Memorial in Kansas City.

THE CEREMONIES are patterned after a quarter-century-old custom of Belgian veterans. In past years, United States veterans lighted a torch in this country and sent it abroad as a gesture of respect and comradeship.

In 1960, the Belgians kindled two torches to be sent to the United States in return, and the Sacred Torch Ceremony became an international rite, with the people-to-people program taking over U.S. sponsorship.

National and state leaders of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans of World War II, AMVETS, Catholic War Veterans, and Jewish War Veterans carry the torches in "sacred relay" to be placed with symbolic ceremonies at veterans' shrines. Veterans native to the participating countries, accompanied by color guards and honor units present the torches to the American veterans to initiate the "relay."

THE WEST COAST program will be preceded by a 15-minute band concert by the official Tournament of Roses Band, which also will play martial airs during the program, Gough said.

In a telegram to all participating veterans, President John F. Kennedy said: "Such demonstrations for the cause of Freedom and Peace help strengthen the bonds which unite those who fought together to preserve these ideals."

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower wired: "To all, wherever they may be, joined in the annual Sacred Torch Ceremony, go my hopes and prayers that their commemoration of faith and courage may be through the years ahead a continuing call on our hearts and minds to labor and to sacrifice that freedom may endure and peace with justice be achieved."

SPEAKER AT the Glendale ceremony will be George Murphy, actor, producer, and Hollywood executive. A tableau featuring the flags and uniforms of all United States veterans since the Revolutionary war will highlight the program. Numerous Boy Scout groups are expected to attend in uniform.
