

Leader of Pathfinders Offers Thanks for Response to Drive

John Dillon, 4713 Laurette St., director of the Pathfinder Youth Club of Torrance Seventh-day Adventist Church, 1610 Acacia Ave., today gave a public "Thank you!" to Torrance for help given on Halloween eve for needy refugees from Red China.

"The people of Torrance gave most generously to 'Project Handclasp,' our youth club's effort to bring bedding and clothes to refugees from Red China now in Hong Kong," said Dillon.

Dillon said the clothing and bedding is currently being packed and readied for shipment to the western Adventist welfare depot near San Jose where it will be tightly baled for transoceanic shipment by U. S. Navy ships to Hong Kong.

THE LOCAL church youth club leader said much food was also collected by the youngsters of the club participating in the special Halloween eve activity. This food he said, will be sent to Monument Valley, Utah, where it will be distributed to Navajo Indians facing short food supplies for the winter.

"Thousands of shivering people in Hong Kong who will be receiving the clothing and bedding will be sending their thanks across the thousands of miles of Pacific water to the people of Torrance who helped in this project," said Dillon. "To those who give, the knowledge that these people have been helped must bring a warm feeling of having done something really good on Halloween eve."

"HERALD READERS in Gardena and Lomita telephoned the church to say they had read the article telling of 'Project Handclasp' and they wanted to join in this worthwhile project. They suggested that if the youngsters couldn't come to them they would deliver their boxes to the church. Several such deliveries were made of cartons containing bedding, good clothing for cold weather and staples and canned foods.

A special "Thank you!" to these warm hearted families is extended by the members and leaders of the Pathfinders," said Dillon.

Forty-eight bicyclists were killed during 1961, an increase of nearly 50 per cent over the 1960 figure of 33, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Cancer Society Gives Financial Accounting

American Cancer Society today announced a fund-raising cost of 11.56 per cent, one of the lowest figures for any health agency or charitable organization in the country. The society raised a record amount of $1,253,283 in Los Angeles County during the past year.

In its 1962 annual report, mailed today to all voting members, the society saluted 25 years of progress against cancer. The report reflects a liver anniversary motif by use of an aluminum-foil cover donated by the Aluminum Co. of America. The cover design recalls the analogy of the society as a modern day St. George, fighting a dragon-like adversary — cancer.

According to Dr. Richard J. Lescoe, education chairman for the eighth district of the society, copies of the 1962 report are available to the public.

Dr. Lescoe said today, "The society feels a deep obligation to report to its contributors on the way in which their donations are being spent. The 1962 report outlines our current objectives and gives details of the year round education and service to cancer patients programs of the society, as well as all financial accounting of its income and expenditures.

Requests for the 1962 annual report should be addressed to the American Cancer Society, District 8, 804 E. Manchester Blvd., Inglewood.

Harbor Nurses Rank High on Examinations

Harbor College vocational nursing graduates once more ranked high in recent state examinations, it was announced today by Roberta Lindberg, director of the Nursing Division at Harbor College.

Results from the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examinations, which were taken last August, place the group of 32 Harbor students in third place out of 43 schools participating.

With 19 students, Fullerton Junior College ranked first with the highest average score of 612.2. The group of 23 from Mount San Antonio College placed second with an average score of 603.8, and the 32 vocational nursing students from Harbor College were third with their average score of 586.9.

The state average for California is 526.8, while the national average score is 515.6. A passing grade is 425.

According to Miss Lindberg, the State Employment Service calls nursing a distressed area with not enough qualified and trained personnel to fill the need throughout the state.

Of the 64 vocational students presently enrolled at Harbor, there are only 17 new students who entered the program this fall semester.

"Requirements for entering the field of vocational nursing are not stringent," states Miss Lindberg. No previous courses are required, a high school diploma is not necessary, and age, sex, or marital status are not factors.

Miss Lindberg is looking forward to the further development of the nursing program at Harbor College. It has been recently separated from the Division of Science, making it a separate division under the direction of Miss Lindberg. By next year, the training program for registered, as well as for vocational, nurses will be well under way.

All 21 members of the June 1962 graduating class took the examination and all passed. Five graduates from Torrance are Beatrice Joy Baker, Lucille V. Hill, Louetta C. Nicolle, Clestabelle L. Sutton, and Jane Ward Weiss.

Camino Wives Slate Program

El Camino Faculty Wives Club will meet Nov. 15 for a program of humorous readings given by Howard Banks, drama instructor at the college.

The club will meet at 8 in the faculty lounge, according to Mrs. Norman Kadison, program chairman.

Mrs. Irene Bloch will serve as chairman of the refreshment and decoration committee, aided by faculty wives Maureen Sherman, Jessaway Goltart, Andrea Brown, Dorothy Putzel, and Wilma Poe.

Last month, at the club's first meeting of the fall semester, the members heard "You Can't Get There From Here," a talk given by Miss Marjorie Sewell, communications specialist for the Southern California Gas Co. They met at Mel's House of Raymond in Hawthorne.

Date of the next meeting is Jan. 17, at which time an auction has been scheduled.
