

Visitors Use El Camino as College Model

Representatives of the Board of Trustees of the Junior College District of St. Louis County, Mo., visited El Camino College this week preparatory to the beginning of the first public junior college in the newly formed St. Louis District.

of a study in architecture, curriculum and administration of junior colleges in the state. "OUR TRIP to California is like a journey to the center of the world of junior colleges. California is nationally noted to be years ahead in this most important educational area," Mrs. Bastian said. "We hope to learn from the California colleges how to solve some of the problems we will encounter and which they have already faced during their pioneer days," Ruffin said. "ESCORTING the visitors on tour of the campus were Dr. Stuart E. Marsee, president of El Camino and Meri F. Sloan, director of student personnel. Also present during the question and answer period was Dr. Wendell C. Black, president of Harbor College, where an earlier tour had been conducted.

Frances James Presents Art

Paintings Americana, a one-woman show by Frances James, a native Californian and local resident, will be shown at the American Veterans Lodge Building, 1958 Compton Blvd., Nov. 16-18, 2 to 9 p.m. Proceeds will go to the Kiwanis Club of El Camino. Miss James' career spans more than 15 years of study and depiction of one of America's last and independent Indian tribes, the Taos New Mexico Indians.

in 1961 her Motherless Lamb entered at the Great Madonnas Festival received both the purchase award and the most popular award. Miss James continues to make trips throughout the Southwest in search of subjects and their way-of-life that will disappear before this century is recorded. A drawing will be held on Nov. 18 for a painting from the collection.

Architects Named for Expansion Work at Little Company of Mary

Verge and Clatworthy were named as architects for the expansion of the Little Company of Mary Hospital at the regular meeting of the advisory board. The building committee, headed by Sam Levy, was authorized to employ the services of Verge and Clatworthy to prepare preliminary drawings for the project. In addition to the expansion of the pediatrics department from 22 beds to 48 beds, it anticipated the hospital will erect a convent to house 14 sisters who serve as nurses at the hospital, according to George Schneider, president of the advisory board. Verge and Clatworthy designed the present hospital facility. Recently the hospital was cited by the Torrance

Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for contributing to the beauty of the city through excellence in architecture and landscaping. Saturday, Jan. 26, 1963 was set as the date for the third annual Founders Day dinner dance by the arrangement committee headed by James Visceglia. The dinner dance will be held at the Pen and Quill.

Fred Mill, Gene Alfred, and Sam Levy were named to the Industrial Building Fund Committee. James Visceglia, Gene Alfred, James Barrett, and George Schneider were appointed to a committee to make arrangements for the first annual outing of the Centurion Club.

Carson Area Library Sets Extra Hours

The Carson branch of the Los Angeles County Public Library, located at 22102 South Main Street, will be open an additional four hours a week. Regional Librarian Betty Lee Addison announced today. The additional hours of public service are being provided in response to the growing use of the Carson library, particularly patrons attending nearby schools. Formerly the library closed at 5 p.m. on Thursday evenings. Under the extended hours it will be open until 9 p.m. each Thursday evening beginning today, Miss Addison said. With the new schedule in effect, the Carson branch will now be open Mondays through Fridays from 1 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Sam Hinton Sings Tonight

Sam Hinton, folksinger, will be featured in the Harbor College Forum program today at 8 p.m. in the college gymnasium. This marks his second appearance before a Harbor audience as he previously appeared at a summer program for the students. Hinton has an unusual background for an entertainer. His full-time job is curator of the aquarium-museum at the Scripps Institute of Oceanography, one of the campuses of the University of California. Coming from a musical family, Hinton as a boy set out to learn as many songs as possible. He was a member of a Major Bowes vaudeville unit which he left to complete his education at UCLA. Always interested in nature study he followed courses that brought him to his present position as curator. Hinton says, "I like folksongs both for what they are and what they represent. They are enjoyable to hear, they are fun to sing and they provide us with an important link with the past, making us feel that we, personally, are a part of humanity's history." Admission for the program is 50 cents at the box office.
