Disneyland Christmas Festival Set

Disneyland will hold its eighth annual Christmas festival on Sunday, Dec. 16, when Walt Disney presents the "Parade of All Nations," and the living "Parade of the Toys."

Twenty marching bands, floats, song and dance groups and equestrians will contribute to the pageantry as they march down Christmas decorated Main Street, U.S.A. Live reindeer, camels, zebras, ostriches, elephants and other animals related to Christmas through fact and fable will march through Disneyland in the parade of worldwide Christmas tradition.

FOR CHILDREN of all ages, the "Parade of the Toys" will follow the All Nation procession on this one day only. Living toys, all created by Walt Disney, include performing wooden soldiers, clowns, dolls, knights on horseback and costumed Disney characters.

Toy floats will feature the "mousetrap band," confetti-shooting toy battleships, marionettes, trains, and a Disney style Santa Claus sleigh with eight comic reindeer.

Gale Storm, Dennis Morgan, and "The Living Christmas Tree" will lead a mass choir of 750 in candlelight procession down Main Street to Town Square at 6 p.m. On the steps of the Disneyland-Santa Fe Railroad station the choir will sing traditional holiday carols.

The Disneyland Carolers, in Dickens costumes will march in the parade and will also perform daily in Disneyland, Dec. 15-30.
