

Party Hats Readied for New Year's Eve

Area Restaurants Set Tables for Gala Fete

"Should old acquaintance be forgot and never called to mind?" The usual answer is no. So in keeping with this request this week, we will suggest a few good ways and many fine establishments where one can partake in a final blast.

The most important is not to drink if you are going to drive. Another way to enjoy the coming year is to plan ahead exactly what you are going to do and where you are going to go. For safety's sake, you might pick out one place or just a few but keep the driving time down if at all possible.

Many fine restaurants and cocktail lounges will have New Year's eve parties with a variety of free gifts for the party goer.

In Inglewood Mr. T.G.'s at 3955 W. Imperial (corner of Prairie) will be catering to the person and his party who makes his reservation early (OR 3-9452). Entertainment will be supplied by Harry Helings and his quartet and a surprise group to be announced at the party. The music will be continuous. New York steak, which is the house specialty, will be served from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Free party favors will be given away along with noise makers.

The tab for the entire ball of fun including dinner and entertainment is $15 per couple. If you don't want dinner the cover charge is only $2. Mr. T.G.'s sounds like the place to go.

The Polynesian, which offers authentic foods and atmosphere of the islands, has a package plan for those near Pacific Coast Hwy. and Hawthorne. Hats and noisemakers are included with the excellent Hawaiian show for $15 per person. Polynesian management suggests you get your reservation in early. The number to call is FR 8-1247.

In Downtown Torrance the much acclaimed Palms restaurant at 1925 W. Carson will have its yearly New Year's party. Free noisemakers and hats will be given away at the Palms.

A special combination dinner, show and dancing will be featured at the Smith Bros. Fish Shanty at 4020 Pacific Coast Hwy. The Chapel Theater players will present a comedy "The Marriage Go Round" in the little theater immediately behind the Fish Shanty. Dinner is at 7:30 p.m. and consists of sizzling steak served with champagne. Curtain time is 9 p.m. giving you plenty of time to eat. You return to the restaurant at about 11:15 p.m. for a party supper with dancing until 2 a.m., all for only $12 per person.

Your host and hostess, Max and Mary Wilmarth, suggest you get your reservation in early. The entire evening is available by calling for reservation at FR 2-9636. No need to bring noise makers or hats they will be supplied to you. Remember the Smith Brothers Fish Shanty for your New Year's fun.

Chin's Chinese-American restaurant will not only have a New Year's party with all the noise makers and hats given to you free but at midnight they will have a drawing for many fine gifts. To be given away are a hair dryer, a camera, a clock radio, and a transistor radio. Chin's management asks that you don't wait until New Year's Eve to register for these drawings but come in any time at the restaurant at 1841 W. Pacific Coast Hwy.

Pepe's Pizza Palace at 1613 W. Carson is going to surprise its patrons with a group of entertainers on New Year's Eve. Besides the music, the stars of the night will be the usual excellent pizza and beer.

Bernie Jones and his quartet and Fred Barden and his trio will supply the continuous entertainment at Marineland restaurant by the ocean between Redondo Beach and San Pedro.

Dinner will be served from 9 p.m. to 12 a.m. Dancing will be allowed for the only time in the year in the spacious lobby. You can leave your noise makers and hats at home, the management will supply you. The complete evening including dinner and favors is only $8.50 per person. Without dinner but including dancing and free favors the evening is only $3.50 per person.

The menu will feature steak, quab, lobster, and prime rib. This event is a sell-out each year so don't be disappointed call FR 7-1547 early for your party reservation.

In Manhattan Beach the place for your gala new year's party is the Pen and Quill on Pacific Coast Highway.

The party will be in the "Manhattan Room" with dinner and dancing. Noise makers, confetti, and sparkling gaiety will be the highlight of the evening.

You will be entertained by the well-known Eligibles. The entire evening is just $12 per person and reservations are required. The number to call the Pen and Quill is FR 9-2477.

You Needn't Look Like Beastly Winter's Wrath

by Count Marco

HOLLYWOOD—In the past 10 days I've covered a lot of ground checking up on the average American woman. I've looked you over in the freezing winds of Chicago, the record-breaking cold of New York and the polluting smog of Hollywood.

On this trip I have seen some female sights that were exciting and others to turn my stomach—the latter, naturally, in Hollywood.

As I sit here by the pool at a Hollywood hotel I shake my head in wonderment that this city should be so burdened with two tremendous tragedies, its smog and its women. Mon Dieu! Both are such strains on the eyes I can't imagine how the natives can stand the pressures.

Let me describe to you just one of the ghastly monsters I saw strolling down Hollywood Boulevard. She wore a green hat made from Hawaiian palm fronds, long dingle-dangle earrings and a two-piece too-tight Capri set in a print as vivid as a fireworks display. All her slab was wound up in stripes going horizontally, making her rear look like an airport bus that had backed into a cement wall once too often. Over her shoulder hung a hand-tooled leather purse made in Tijuana, and on her feet, so help me, Texas boots.

The most surprising thing was that no one even gave her a second look. Obviously such sights are not the exception here but rather the rule. These are the daylight creatures. But if you really want to see some horrors you should glimpse what comes out of the shadows into the lights at night.

One thing I can say for cold weather. It at least keeps you American women covered up. I will admit, in all fairness to Hollywood women, that some of the covered sights in Chicago could do well to stay hidden under wraps altogether.

It is not true, though, as was reported in Chicago papers, that I said all women of that city are sloppy. I merely said that quite a few are.

I saw you with my own eyes, kerchiefs on your heads, and you wore coats that made many of you look like refugees from the Polar region. You staggered along in strange footwear at which even the poorest peasant in the Orient would turn up his nose.

And you need not write to me howls of protest claiming you have to look like bundles from nowhere because of the cold; I saw many women in Chicago who looked elegant and stylish bucking the same breezes that so many of you sloppy messes complain about.

It is absolutely not necessary for any woman to look either like the frights of Hollywood or the blights of Chicago. In the Chicago area it is bad enough that the men must face the cold of the blizzards and wind without having their blood chilled as well by the likes of some of you. Get back to being a woman.
