Auto Dealer Denies Bias Against Union in Dispute

Protests by two discharged employees of Ortale Rambler are personnel matters "and in no way whatsoever has any connection with the union." The HERALD was told this week by Keith R. Muir, general sales manager of the firm. "These men were discharged for cause and in no way reflects any attitude toward the union," Muir said. The auto executive said the discharge of two men, which has led to a picket line at the company's showrooms, had been taken to the National Labor Relations Board by the union and then withdrawn on the hearing date. A second request was filed, Muir told The HERALD, and this, too, had been withdrawn. "Insofar as Al Ortale is concerned, our employe benefits, wages, and working conditions are reputed to be the finest in the Southern California area and the striking individuals in no way reflect the attitude of the majority of this firm's employes," Muir said.

Council Delays High Rise Again

The final public hearing on the petition of Sovereign Development Co. for a zone variance to construct a high rise apartment on the site of the old Riviera Club has been postponed until Jan. 14, 1964. City Council members postponed the hearing at the request of the Torrance Unified School District, which has scheduled override tax information meetings that conflicted with the original hearing date.
