SUNSET SALAD ← Good Idea!

Combine 1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) peach halves, 2 tbsps. red cinnamon candies, 1 tbsp. lemon juice; let stand in refrigerator overnight or longer.

TO SERVE: Place mound of cottage cheese in dish on lettuce leaf or, for a really spectacular effect, place in a tall stemmed glass. Top with peach half and a little peach syrup.

A dramatic and delectable way to combine two all-American favorites, canned cling peaches and cottage cheese.

CLING PEACH ADVISORY BOARD

QUEEN HOPEFULS . . . Thirteen entrants in the 1963 "Miss Torrance" contest pose with the current queen, Bobbet King (front center) as they began preliminary grooming for the judging this week. Political Action Course Scheduled to Open Here

A practical course in political action will open today under the sponsorship of Palos Verdes Peninsula Republican Men's Club. Classes will be held each Thursday for a total of our sessions of two hours each. Cost of the course, which includes a set of six textbooks, will be $6. Books may be shared by husband and wife at no additional cost.

Instructing the course will be William Woolson, executive director of Republican Associates. The course will be held in the tack room of the Plush Horse restaurant.

Each session will cover a different segment of political action. The subjects include (1) a study of organization—what makes the party tick (2)

How Congress and our State Legislatures work, (3) How elections are run and won, and (4) Candidate selection, campaign techniques, and how Republicans can be effective in politics.

Specific information about the courses may be obtained by calling Bryan Hardwick at FR 5-2547.

Home Show Features New Model

Contracts for the construction of the 1963 Home Show balanced power home have been signed by the Southern California Gas Co. and the R. A. Watt Construction Co.

The home, to be called The Diamond Head, will be the largest in Home Show history. It will be featured at the Sports Arena June 13-23.

The home will be a model of five balanced power home tracts now being built by the Watt Construction Co. They include Palo del Amo in Torrance and Mesa Palos Verdes in Palos Verdes.
