

...Let's Go

By LARRY MACARAY

I've been looking forward to writing this column for a long time. The title may be misleading to some people, but it is not meant to be. There are so many interesting things I want to talk about that the title has to be broad enough to cover everything from a local art exhibit to an outdoor opera in Rome.

During my seven years of teaching at Torrance High School, I met many students, parents and teachers interested in the Fine Arts. It was a loss to me leaving THS and to lose contact with many of these people, so perhaps this may be a way of communicating with them again.

There are many art groups actively functioning in this area, as well as individuals painting the local scene. I'd like to mention local activities such as art exhibits, art lectures and demonstrations. In order that I can become aware of what is going on, please write to me in care of the Torrance Herald, and I'll try to mention your activity.

LAST EVENING I was scheduled to speak on the "Psychology of Color" at the dinner meeting of the San Gabriel Valley Florists Assn. I've been kind of anxious about this speech because florists are such interesting people — always looking for new ideas, particularly where color is concerned. Last year I spoke to the Orange County Florists Assn. and their interest in the individual's reaction to color kept me answering questions for two hours. It's a good thing that the dinner comes first.

We are all affected by color, whether we realize it or not. Take particular notice at the supermarket next time you go shopping. Look over the colors that are used on different types of sales items — gold and purples for prestige products, blues and greens for well-established articles, and reds with yellows for the "fast-movers."

Red seems to be the most popular color with women. Wonder why? Red has always been a symbol for danger, anger, rage, courage, and passion. Of course, our particular like or dislike for a color rests largely on our own personal experiences with color. Social culture has a definite effect on color preference on the individual. We use white for the marriage ceremony and the Chinese use red. Who knows why?

AS LONG as we are talking about color, here's something to tickle your brain with: If you buy a sack of red apples at the market, then take them home and place them in a dark closet — are the apples still red, even though you can't tell color in the dark?

Hope to have some good photos to accompany this column from time to time. A former yearbook photographer of mine at THS, Bill Robison, is a professional now and will take photos for me. Bill has just recently finished four years as a Navy photographer and his experiences indicate that he was a good one.

Bill is going along with my travel group to Europe this summer, so the trip should be well covered photographically. We're leaving July 8th for 38 days in Europe, covering 12 countries and I know that we'll have an exciting time.

TRAVELING IS one of my particular hobbies, so you no doubt will read about some interesting places, far away from Torrance. The group that we have formed this year is a young one compared to other years. There is still room for six or seven people who want to see Europe with us. Write for particulars, if you are interested.

Just before school started in September I flew to Mexico City, then took a train to San Miguel de Allende to see an old THS colleague, Art Hopkins. Was very fortunate to see the All Mexico Art Exhibition there, in which Art had a painting hung. Some of the colorful paintings that he did during his stay in Mexico are on view now at the Torrance Education Assn. building in downtown Torrance.

Fine Arts Instructor Introduced

Introduced today is a series of articles by an outstanding fine arts instructor, Larry Macaray, who will keep HERALD readers posted on the happenings in his special field with particular emphasis on the local scene.

Macaray is widely known in the Torrance area where he served as chairman of the fine arts department at Torrance High School from 1955 to 1962. He now is an art instructor at El Canimo College.

An avid traveler, Macaray plans a tour of Europe this summer and will report to HERALD readers on his experiences.

He was graduated from Whittier College in 1951 and received his master's degree at Long Beach State College in 1955, the year he came to Torrance High.

In addition to heading up the fine arts department at the local high school, he served as a psychology instructor in the Adult Education division.

Macaray's column will be published regularly in the Sunday edition of THE HERALD. To keep up with the events of interest in that field, check his "Let's Go" feature regularly.

Narbonne Sets Open House

Narbonne High School, 24300 S. Western Ave. in Harbor City, will hold open house Monday from 7:45 p.m. to 9:10.

A short musical program will be followed by visits to the classrooms. Parents will have an opportunity to follow their children's program and to understand the purpose, methods, accomplishments, and benefits of Narbonne's educational program as related to the theme of "Family, Faith and Freedom."

Mayor Isen To Address Group Today

Mrs. Alice Chase, president of the Women's Democratic Society of South Bay, has invited women of the Southwest area to hear Mayor Albert Isen speak on "The Current Status of the South Bay State College Site," at the club's general meeting to be held today at 10:30 a.m., in the home of Mrs. Doris Robinson, 16703 Ermanita Ave., Torrance.

In addition to the informative talk by Isen, the program chairman, Mrs. Frances Grassi of San Pedro, has scheduled a report of the recent California Democratic Council Convention by the club delegate, Mrs. Rene Dean of Torrance.

Also reporting will be Mrs. Mildred Stuart of San Pedro who attended with Mrs. Grassi the Women's Key Conference on Legislation held April 6, at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles.

The Legislative Conference, an annual event by the Women's Division of the Democratic State Central Committee, included a panel discussion of education moderated by Mrs.

Rae Wymen of San Pedro, co-chairman of the 28th Congressional District Democratic State Central Committee.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Memo to stork-watchers who are about to see one: remember, the rest you store up in the hospital will stand you in good stead those first few hectic days at home. Once home, however try not to cram 36 hours into 24 until your strength returns. If you tend to baby's needs first, add household chores gradually, your own routine will develop gradually.

Food for thought. When you and your doctor decide whether your baby will be breast or bottle-fed, ask him about Modilac... the Gerber Baby Formula. It's a special milk formula that really works and tastes like milk because it's flash-sterilized in 6 seconds to retain natural color and flavor. Containing everything to meet your baby's nutritional needs, it provides nourishment comparable to mother's milk.

Modilac is a complete formula. No syrup or sugar to measure or mix. No vitamin supplement needed. All you do is pour the amount of Modilac and boiled water your doctor specifies into pre-sterilized bottles.

Bottle business. You'll read a lot about bottle-feeding... how to hold both bottle and baby... length of feeding time, etc. But the two most important things are the love you put into each feeding... and permitting baby to stop feeding when he's had enough. The tender cradling of your arms gives baby a feeling of security and the sense that contentment and good food go together. The right to stop when he's had enough is the same right accorded to the breast-fed baby.

Solid step in the right direction. When your doctor gives you the go-ahead on cereal, you'll find Gerber Cereals make for smooth going on those first tries with solid food. First, the texture is ever so creamy and nice to the tongue. Second, the flavors are pleasantly bland, the way babies prefer them.

As for nutrition, all Gerber Cereals are enriched with iron, calcium and B-vitamins. Gerber Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Mich.
