MISS TORRANCE MAKES PICK AS MGR. LEONARD BARON OF KARL'S LOOKS ON

Santa Comes Early for Tiny Sandra

There was joy in the household of little Sandra Coast, 10, of 1639 W. 219th yesterday. For little Sandra won a four speed phonograph record player, something she has wanted a long time.

It all came about when Sandra who attends Wilmington Christian School, along with her mother made a purchase of some shoes at Karl's Shoe Store at Sartori and El Prado some weeks ago.

At the time of her purchase, Sandra filled out a contest card and carefully placed it in a drawing box. Yesterday Miss Torrance, Sharon Starns, picked that same ticket from a host of others.

When Miss Torrance called the Coast home, Sandra answered the phone. When told she had won the prize her only comment was "Oh Ma Ma, Oh Ma-Ma."

Sandra's mother then came to the phone and said Sandra was thrilled beyond words, for just a few days before, Sandra had told her mother, the first thing she was asking of Santa Claus this year, was a phonograph to play Elvis Presley records.

MUSEUM WEEK ON NOW

Tuesdays, October 1, marked the official opening of the first annual "Museum Week" for Los Angeles County.

During the week of October 1-6 the museums in Los Angeles County are opening their doors to welcome the residents of the County to participate in "Museum Week." Each of the museums will either feature a special exhibit or highlight a permanent exhibit.

The purpose of this program is to acquaint the public with the varied resources available at the many different museums.

A spokesman for the Museum Week Committee emphasized, "the whole family, from the smallest toddler to Great Great Grandmother is welcome to visit any of the museums. The many exhibits range from the prehistoric age to the present Atomic Age."

"Don't miss this wonderful opportunity to visit your local museums during "Museum Week," he concluded.

The 15 museums in Los Angeles County participating in "Museum Week" are Antelope Valley Indian Research Museum, Lancaster; Cabrillo Beach Marine Museum, San Pedro; Catalina Island Museum, Avalon; J. Paul Getty Museum, Malibu; Long Beach Museum of Art; Huntington Library and Art Gallery, San Marino (Closed during October); Pasadena Art Museum; and the San Fernando Mission Historical Museum.

Those located in the City of Los Angeles are the California Museum of Science and Industry, Fern Dell Nature Museum, Griffith Observatory and Planetarium, Los Angeles County Museum, Municipal Art Gallery, Southwest Museum and Travel Town, Griffith Park.

Community Sing Set For Sunday

The old American custom of community singing, enlivened by sparkling entertainment programs, continues the Los Angeles Bureau of Music's free summertime Sunday afternoon presentations in the city's parks this week-end.

On Sunday (Oct. 6) there will be a free community sing at Pt. Fermin Park in San Pedro. Sam Carlisle will lead the sing with the Glendora Dance Revue.
