

Urge Early Auto Tag Renewal

Department of Motor Vehicles officials urged motorists to apply for 1958 vehicle registration renewals early before the penalty deadline of February 4.

When owners submit fees with the prepared registration renewal cards mailed state-wide recently, the service is rapid. By applying in person you leave the office with your 1958 green sticker for the car's rear plate and with the new registration card for display in your vehicle on the steering post.

Paul Mason, director of motor vehicles, emphasized that the statement cards must be presented complete. The stub must not be detached from the main card before fee payment. He also advised that the new 1958 green sticker should be attached to the rear license plate to cover the old red 1957 sticker. The area should be clean and dry when the new sticker is applied, and it may be well to warm the plate briefly with the palm of the hand before attaching the sticker.

Kiwanis Told Printing Gains

Los Angeles' advance in size and importance is reflected in the growth of the printing industry in Southern California. "The greater Los Angeles area is now the third largest printing center in the nation," said Scotty Mattraw of Hillside Press speaking before a meeting of the Torrance Kiwanis Club at the American Legion Hall in Torrance last week.

"The expansion of this field has provided opportunity for young people eager to pursue careers in the graphic arts," he said.

Mattraw is one of more than one hundred local graphic artists who are addressing schools, business and civic clubs, and service organizations this month on behalf of International Printing Week which is being observed January 12-18.

Printing Week is celebrated each January throughout the United States, and in Canada and Hawaii, coincident with the birthdate of Benjamin Franklin, the patron saint of printers. "Printing is fifth in the nation in industrial importance," Mattraw disclosed. "One out of every 250 workers in America is employed in some phases of the graphic arts."

"Since the invention of movable type by Johann Gutenberg in the fifteenth century, printing has given a lasting impression to all of man's thoughts, beliefs, and discoveries. It is one medium of communication that enters every profession, every human endeavor."

Purpose of the annual Printing Week observance, according to Mattraw, is to make the public aware of new advances in printing technology and to salute the spirit and enterprise of an industry which has been a constructive force in the cultural advancement of mankind.

Printing Week in Southern California is sponsored by the Printing Week Council of Greater Los Angeles, Inc., an organization composed of the Southland's major graphic arts associations.

bat and came to be highly respected for his seemingly inexhaustible reservoir of courage and energy. He never knew combat fatigue.

Honorably discharged, he went back home to attend Ohio University and Ohio State for PHD work. He returned to the Air Force in 1948. In Korea he and his motto, "By Faith I Fly," emblazoned in native language across the fuselage of his Mustang. While he slaughtered reds from the sky, trained the ROK Air Force and gathered up orphans by day, his idea of real fun at night was rummaging through two foot lockers full of books he had dragged all the way to China. "I remained in the service," he said, "because I feel I am doing more to fight the greatest enemy that ever faced our civilization and Christianity. You cannot pray away communism. Foreign pressures today are greater than any internal pressures faced by our people."

"Prayer will give men conviction and faith in maintaining the strength necessary to dispel the threat of communism but our civilization must bear arms to forestall enemy moves. That is where my obligation lies. When the threat is dispelled I will leave the service. I would be disappointed if they sent me home now."

The colonel is one of three men who has been awarded the Order of Military Merit by President Syngman Rhee which must combine the highest contributions of both a humanitarian and combat nature to the Republic of Korea. The other two are General Douglas MacArthur and President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Colonel Hess and his wife, Mary, are the parents of three sons.

The Dentist Says:

Denture Gagging Can Be Eliminated

By ERNEST J. TARR, D.D.S.

"Why does my dental plate gag me and what can I do about it?" asks Mrs. R.C.S. of Redondo Beach.

This question is asked by many who suffer from gagging sensations due to dentures. Among the most severe cases these persons are unable to wear any type of appliance in their mouths; among the less severe cases, they are able to wear their dentures only at short intervals.

Modern dentistry has developed techniques for combatting this condition. One of these techniques is the roofless upper denture which leaves the palate completely free of any denture material. In order for the denture to obtain enough suction to stay in the mouth, retention is obtained around the ridge, portion of the gums and in the labial sulcus.

Thousands of dentures have been made using this technique and the wearing of these roofless dentures has given new confidence and happiness to many people.
