Demand for New Cars Outstrips Supply, Report

Demand for 1959 automobiles in Southern California is outstripping the supply in most lines, a survey showed this week.

The survey was made by the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers Association to determine if the production flow has been restored sufficiently in the wake of the chain of auto industry strikes to meet what appears to be a boom year for new automobiles. A healthy market of 6,500,000 new cars is predicted for the 1959 season.

Dealers and manufacturers representing all U.S. makes—American Motors, Chrysler, Ford, General Motors and Studebaker-Packard—were queried.

One drink for the road after office hours is more potent than commonly believed, according to a report of the Yale Center of Alcoholic Studies. The usual "cocktail hour" comes at a time when a person's resistance is lowest and most vulnerable to the toxic effects of alcohol.
