PUPILS STUDY U. S., ACQUIRE PEN PALS

Fifth and sixth-graders at Anza Elementary School have acquired pen pals 3000 miles away. Their pals are adults in Boston. Last month, Linda Jones, 9, a student in Roxy Battles' room, wrote the New England Electric System for information on that region. Since she gave Anza School's address, the office staff has been deluged with mail. In addition to its historical booklet, the firm gave the school's name to the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce, Department of Commerce, and State Department. Spurred by Linda's success, classmates have written other agencies throughout the country to get more information for the group's social-studies project. The class is learning about America.

'Worth Waiting For' WATCH!

Torrance Couple to Show Works at Gem Exhibit

The annual show of the Compton Gem and Mineral Club, will be held at the Lynwood Community Center, Bullis Rd. and Century Blvd., next Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The feature of the show will be reproduction of the picture of "Christ in Gethsemane," made of translucent rocks by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hodson club members from Lomita. A working lapidary shop will be in operation. Food will be served. The Compton Gem and Mineral Club is a non-profit organization established 10 years.

Tax-Free Property Up $71,000,000 in State

The 1959 assessed value of privately owned property exempt from taxation amounted to $1,472,678,000—a gain of $71 million over the 1958 figure. This volume represents almost $6 out of every $100 found on the locally assessed rolls. Veteran's exemptions account for most exemptions.

PUPILS GET DAILY LETTER FROM TEACHER

Students in Lucile Edmonson's first and second-grade class at Hillside Elementary School eagerly look forward to a letter they get every day from their teacher. The letter encourages them to read. She reviews work the class did the previous day and praises good work of individuals. Letters are delivered in an old purse Mrs. Edmonson bought in Hong Kong.

Dog Obedience Course Scheduled at Athens Park

Due to many requests from people with unruly dogs, another Harbor Life Dog Obedience Club Class, formerly known as West Athens Dog Obedience, will be conducted at West Athens Park, 12438 S. Athens Way (Broadway and El Segundo), Los Angeles. The class will start Saturday at 2 p.m. Conducting the course will be Marty Lehr, well-known obedience trainer in southern communities section. The course will be climaxed by AKC standards for handler and dog. Enrollment is for mixed breed and pedigreed dogs.
