Supervisors Ask Freeway Phones for Emergencies

In a strongly worded resolution by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, the Board of Supervisors today urged the state Division of Highways to take immediate steps for installation of emergency telephones on freeways in Los Angeles County.

Hahn pointed out that more than 700,000 motorists use the freeways in Los Angeles County each day.

"The public health and safety demands that emergency telephones be installed on the freeways for the protection of the motoring public and to enable motorists stranded on the freeways to speedily summon help in case of accidents, flat tires, motor trouble, sickness, fire and other emergency situations," he declared.
