Girl Scouts Cookie Sale

Girl Scout cookies go on sale February 10 through 22. When a Girl Scout or Brownie stops at the door selling cookies, please buy a box for 50 cents, said Mrs. Finnell, Girl Scout spokesman.

The cost of $15.96 per year to keep one girl in scouting, is reduced to $9.90 by Community gifts and others of $6.06 per girl. Each scout does her share by selling cookies to raise the additional $9.90.

Girls learn to understand and accept responsibility in scouting, while developing flexibility and maturity within themselves and in their relationship with others and to their community. Scouting also creates a desire to learn new skills and develop stimulating interests.

The participation of the community is needed for the Girl Scouts to reach their goal of $210,000, so say "yes" to that girl scout on your doorstep and "Buy Girl Scout Cookies."

Celebrating its sixth anniversary on the Palos Verdes peninsula is Marineland Restaurant, which owner George M. Foster opened adjacent to the world's largest oceanarium in 1955.

With the beginning of its seventh year, highlighted by a series of "open house" parties, Foster announces the appointment of Kenneth "Berk" MacPherson as general manager of Marineland Restaurant. He will be in charge of all departments at the establishment.

Kenneth Decker has been named new manager of the "Porpoise Room," cocktail-entertainment room at the seacoast dining spot, succeeding MacPherson.
