Catalina Island "Re-born" For Summer Enjoyment

Avalon Casino on Catalina Island, playground of the stars in the Roaring 20's, will be "re-born" during the 1961 summer season when a parade of outstanding entertainers plays the fabled Casino stage for 12 straight weekends.

Gogi Grant, the solid singer who shot to stardom after anonymous voice dubbing for voiceless cinema stars in movie musicals, opens Catalina's Parade of Great Names on the June 16-17 weekend.

The grand old fun ship, the gleaming white S.S. Catalina, also inaugurates its summer season Friday-Saturday night Moonlight Cruises the same weekend, with Ginger and Her Shipmates entertaining en route in the richly renovated Fantail Room.

The Moonlight Cruises sail from the dock at the foot of Avalon Blvd. in Wilmington at 7:45 p.m. each Friday and Saturday, returning in the wee hours.

Roberta Sherwood, the famed "Cinderella Girl" singer who became the sensation of blase New York cafe society after years of apprenticeship in the "sticks," will follow Miss Grant into the Casino on June 23-24. Miss Sherwood, who brings a fresh personal approach to the art of singing, was discovered by Walter Winchell in a Florida nightspot and "clicked big" when booked into Manhattan's Copacabana on the columnist's recommendations.

Maestro Russ Morgan and his "Music in the Morgan Manner" backs the stars at the Casino this season.

Dance Club Meets

Rendezvous Dance Club will meet for its second dance, Friday, June 16 at the Jump 'N Jack, 2900 Pacific Coast Highway in Walteria.

This newly organized social club is open for membership to young adults between 21 and 35 years of age, who are interested in ballroom dancing and making friends.

George Anderson's Esquire Septet will provide music for dancing in the Gold Room. Dancing will start at 9 p.m. The club will meet two Friday nights a month.

For further information, those who are interested in becoming members may call Terminal 3-2158.

Cowboy Regalia Seen at Rodeo

Tom Mix, great cowboy star of the 20's and 30's and Richard Boone, one of today's most popular western heroes, are being saluted this week in store window exhibits calling attention to the 1961 Sheriff's Rodeo.

Boone's "Paladin" costume and silver saddle from his TV series, "Have Gun, Will Travel," are being displayed in a Hill street window of Bullock's downtown store.

A tribute to Boone as grand marshal of the rodeo, the window simultaneously is being presented as an exhibit of interest to the television public.

The Tom Mix display is on view in the Broadway Hollywood and features costumes and other items used by the old-time star in his movies, as well as interesting personal effects.

These include the silver mounted saddle which he rode in the first inaugural parade of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, a 14-carat gold shaving kit, commissions in the Texas Rangers and as a U. S. deputy marshal.
