Parkway PTA Holds Wild West Gala Day

Saturday, April 7, Parkway PTA presents their Wild West Gala Day at El Retiro Park. The time to arrive is 12 noon, well armed with tickets and six shooter. Tickets are only 10 cents apiece or if you want to get in on that special price, pick them up at school on the previous Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday noon periods.

Podner, if you want to have fun, this is the place to have it! There'll be the best tastin' western vittles you ever ate and a mess o' balloons, popcorn and punch. You'll want to poke around the White Elephant Booth, check out the Crazy Make-up Booth, take a bouquet of flowers to the little woman, and smell that "delicious" aroma from the baked goods.

The small fry can round up a pot full of gold fish when they toss a little ping pong ball in a bowl and the littlest to the biggest cowboys will match their skills in the wildest western games. There'll be plenty to keep you busy 'til 4:30 in the afternoon so you best round up the herd and "git yourself" their early.

Mrs. Pete Salmon, president of the Parkway PTA will present Mr. Tony Baratta, principal, with a microphone and public address system. Mrs. M. W. Kostich is chairman of Gala Day.
