

Torrance-Lomita Board Joins National Organization in Realtor Week Observance

Torrance-Lomita Realtors join in the annual Realtor Week celebration sponsored by the National Association of Real Estate Boards of which they are members. This year the event is being observed from May 20 to 26 in hundreds of cities and communities across the country.

The 1962 motto, "Homestead and Home—Foundation of the Nation," was chosen because it was felt that the Homestead Act was one of the greatest steps ever taken to advance individual ownership of land. This Act made it possible to eliminate from the United States any vestige of the centuries-old European tradition of Feudalism which had been used by large-scale landowners to control the land, its resources, and those who labored upon the land. With individual ownership of land to help support and guarantee individual rights and freedoms, the United States has flourished as a nation of small independent land owners — free to buy and sell. The vast volume of property transactions which has resulted from this liberty has given rise to the real estate brokerage. This type of brokerage has reached its highest development through the efforts of the Associations of Real Estate Boards.

SERVICES

The purpose of Realtor Week is to point up the services of a Realtor and the differences between a Realtor and others engaged in the real estate business. Realtors belong to the National and State Associations as well as the local Board of Realtors. This affiliation means that brokers who are Realtors subscribe to the strict National Code of Ethics. Basically, the code is a professional pledge to observe the "Golden Rule" in the real estate business and personal conduct and at all times to keep the interests of the public uppermost in mind. The Torrance - Lomita Board of Realtors has administrative machinery for enforcing conformity to its by-laws, based upon the Code of Ethics, and thus help assure the community the highest possible code of conduct on the part of realtor members. The Board of Realtors has no control over non-members. They are responsible to California Division of Real Estate and the usual legal and law enforcement agencies.

EDUCATION

The board endeavors to improve real estate services through educational programs, both local and in cooperation with the State Association. The board sponsors membership luncheons, breakfast meetings, tours of inspection of multiple-listed property, a Toastmasters Club, a Women's Division, and is currently involved in the formation of an area-wide real estate exchange club. The board strives to interpret and move with the trends of the times in real estate matters.

All activities center at the board office and hall located at 22833 So. Arlington, Torrance. Here in a new 7,000 square foot building an administrative staff of five employees provide central services under the management of Forest Beyrer, executive secretary. An elected Board of Directors provide policy for the direction of the board. The president this year is Realtor Jack Schmidt. Past presidents include many persons prominent in the area. The Torrance-Lomita Board of Realtors has over 650 members and approximately 50 additional affiliates. It rates as one of the fastest growing boards in the state. Organized in 1938, the past few years has seen an unusual growth in membership and services of the board. The multiple listing service, the largest single service, has almost doubled yearly

Youth Employment Plan Advocated by Candidate

Establishment of a youth employment program which would provide state sponsored programs for boys between the ages of 16 and 20 was called for this week by Nickolas O. Drale, Torrance City Councilman and a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the Assembly from the 67th District.

Drale said such a program could be patterned after the federal CCC program of the 1930s, and that the youths could be used throughout California in a battle against the hazards of nature which in the case of forest fires has cost the citizens of California millions of dollars.

"It is my suggestion that our youths be given an opportunity to enter such a state sponsored program for a period of six months or longer," he said. "Such a program could be set for three months in the summer for those attending school," he said.

MINIMUM

Drale suggested that those entering the program be paid the minimum legal wage with cost of up keep deducted. "In many areas of California, youths in a program like this could be housed in idle military camps and in community armories," he said.

The veteran Torrance councilman and civic leader who has been a resident of North Torrance for more than a quarter of a century, has advanced his youth employment program to offer employment to young men at that "in-between" age in their lives when they are out of school and waiting for military service.

"Employment is hard to find for youths of this age," Drale commented. "However, these youths have great energies and we should seek ways to put them to some constructive use—and to give the youths a chance to get away from the streets and hangouts which breed delinquency problems."

At the same time, such a program could provide California with a wealth of facilities in its public resources and recreation areas at a reasonable cost to the taxpayer, Drale said.
