JIM HAHN, 12, substitutes for his dad, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, and presents a scroll to Nancy Davis, queen of the 1963 Tournament of Roses. After the presentation, Jim commented, "If that's what a Supervisor does, I sure want to be one!" His father and other Supervisors who witnessed the presentation assured the youngster that although presenting scrolls to deserving citizens is one of their most enjoyable duties, it is far from their only job. They then settled back for further sessions over air pollution, taxes and an expanding population.

RICHARD D. GUENGRICH, area representative for UCLA university extension, has announced new schedule of local spring classes. Class schedule ranges from logical design of digital computing machinery and systems to the nursery school program. North High School is center for extension classes.
