

CLYDE WALLICHS, the well-known president of the Music City stores, takes time out to audition Cy, the singing sea lion, at Marineland of the Pacific. Wallichs brought along Marilyn Fox, officially Miss Music City, who will preside over the ten-day long grand opening event of the new department store of music in the South Bay Shopping Center. Miss Fox brought along her record player to help Cy stay on key. Marineland is cooperating with Wallichs by sending two penguins for personal appearances with Miss Fox at the new store on Sunday afternoons, November 17 and 24. The first day of business is Friday, November 15.

Local Students Attend Conclave For Red Cross

Opportunities for leadership through Red Cross activities in the community through Red Cross activities in the community were pointed out to collegiate Red Cross volunteers last weekend at their annual conference held at Caravan Inn, Antelope Valley.

Michael Henderson, John Druliner, Pearl Wong and Carolyn Saenger of El Camino College, were among the more than 50 collegians representing schools throughout the Los Angeles area at the conclave.

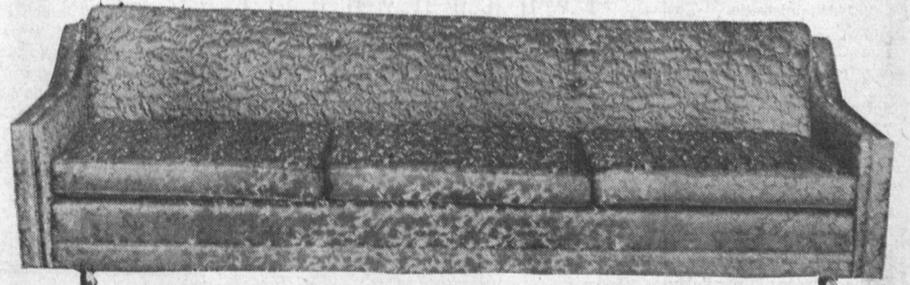

Helping students gain practical humanitarian service experience is the work of Red Cross office of educational relations whose field representatives act as Red Cross and faculty advisors who guide such activities.
