4 Big Sale Days Thurs.-Sun., Oct. 1-4

Hollywood Reporter

By Mike Connolly

Dear Mike: Are Cyd Charisse and Tony Martin really happy or are those big smiles just a cover-up for something serious—like a split-up? —Greta Converse, Asheville, N.C.

Dear Greta: You read the wrong meaning into Tony's recent interview. Sure, he said, "How can I keep her offstage during our nightclub act?" But what he meant was, "She's so great she always steals the spotlight away from me — and I love it!"

Dear Mike: There's absolutely nothing wrong with The Beatles but your criticisms make me want to start throwing things. I have a strong suspicion that there's something wrong with you. Frankly, I think you should have your head examined. Both of them. —Kitty Manley, Oakland.

Dear Kitty: I believe you. I mean about throwing things. The Burbank Airport officials wouldn't let The Beatles' plane land there because (and I quote those officials): "The Beatles' fans would destroy everything in the airport." Dig, double-dome?

Dear Mr. Connolly: Is Joan Crawford seriously ill or what is the true story on her condition?—A Reader, Wilmington, Del.

Dear Reader: Joan is feeling fine, following her siesta in Rancho Santa Fe, and will soon be up and about opening new Pepsi plants right and left in the New York City area — three, to be precise.

Dear Mike: Are those Jill Haworth - Sal Mineo dates for REAL? I can't believe it, she is so pretty. —Hank Birmingham, Bloomington, Ind.

Dear Hank: They've been friends since they co-starred in "Exodus." Besides, she's blonde, he's brunette, and why shouldn't the twain meet? Neither is saying how serious it is but they were chaperoned on their last date (at Otto Preminger's party for the cast of "Harm's Way") by her mother — whose date, in turn, was Doug McClure!

Dear Sir: Is Inger Stevens really a bleached blonde and what color was her hair before she bleached it? Also, where may I write to her.—Marcia Henry, Norwood, Mass.

Dear Marcia: She's a natural Viking blonde (she was born in Sweden) but her hair turned darker when she grew older so naturally she had to make it blonder, besides which blondes photograph better under those hot TV lights. She's at ABC-TV, Hollywood.

Dear Mr. Connolly: Although we are teenagers, we do not care for The Beatles, because we find it quite hard to cope with some contemporary situations. This fad will surely go the way of all fads, including Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra and Elvis Presley. And there are many other teenagers who feel as we do. —Chris Kragles and Karen Zilliot, San Diego.

Dear Anti-Beatles: I can only quote you the warning flashed to you 150 years ago — prophetically, need I add! —in "Kubla Khan" by the poet Samuel Taylor Coleridge: "And all should cry, Beware! Beware! His flashing eyes, his floating hair! Weave a circle round him thrice, and close your eyes with holy dread, for he on honey-dew hath fed, and drunk the milk of Paradise." Eat your melon and drink your milk, kids, you'll need the strength if the Moptops' fans ever meet up with you.

Dear Sir: Whatever happened to Richard Beymer? He hasn't been in a movie lately.—Eleanor R. Younger, Uubana, Ill.

Dear Eleanor: For a while, Richard was in many a movie, the biggest being "West Side Story." But his agents felt it was all a case of "too much, too soon." Besides the roles weren't always tops, even though he worked with such pro's as Rosalind Russell, Joanne Woodward, Ingrid Bergman and Natalie Wood. So he has been studying at the Actors Studio in New York, in addition to helping to register Negro voters in Mississippi.

Dear Mike: Is Nurse Jessie Brewer on "General Hospital," my favorite daytime TV show, married?—Esther Patterson, Boulder, Colo.

Dear Esther: Yes, she's Emily McLaughlin and he's Robert Lansing, the star of the new "12 O'Clock High" series. They are probably the only married stars on TV with separate series.

Our own vision must be clear to open the eyes of others, else the blind will lead the blind and both shall fall.—Mary Baker Eddy.
