

MAKE PLANS . . . Mrs. John Ramirez, secretary at West High, and Mrs. Wesley Megow, account clerk in the West High Student activities office, discuss final plans for the fashion show to be held by the South Bay Eds Nov. 12. Mrs. Megow will be one of the models for the "Century of Fashion" showing. The show will be held at William Anderson School, Lawndale. (Press-Herald Photo)

'Century of Fashion' Theme For South Bay Eds Showing

"Century of Fashion" has been selected as the theme for a Nov. 12 fashion show to be staged by the South Bay Eds at the William Anderson School, 4110 W. 154th St., Lawndale. Modern fashions will be modeled and some authentic fashions of the past will be shown during the show. Fashions are courtesy of Joel's, while Goodwill Industries will supply the fashions of the past. Members of the group will model, according to Mrs. John Ramirez, publicity chairman for South Bay Eds. Tickets are available from the district representatives. The organization includes educational office employees in the school districts serving the southwest section of the county. To BUY, SELL OR EXCHANGE—YOU'LL FIND IT ALL IN CLASSIFIED!

King Speaks At Breakfast

Congressman Cecil R. King (D-17th District) will speak Sunday morning at a 17th Congressional District Breakfast to be held at the Torrance Recreation Center. The breakfast will begin at 10 a.m. Entertainment will be provided by the Dills Brothers Plus One and the Southlanders. King, who will leave for Washington shortly after next week's election, also will make two appearances Thursday evening. At 7:30, he will be at Torrance Democratic Headquarters, 4406 Torrance Blvd., and at 8:30 he will be at San Pedro Headquarters, 480 W. 7th St.

Halloween Safety Tips Listed by Commission

Some Halloween safety reminders were issued this week to parents of trick-or-treating youngsters. The Torrance Safety Council, through chairman Mrs. Eva Bisou, said the real danger in Halloween is often the fault of parents. The Safety Council suggested the following safety precautions should be taken:

- Do not allow children to wear costumes which would be difficult to remove in an emergency.
- Make sure that masks provide proper vision for the child.
- Keep costumes short enough to avoid tripping over them in the excitement of trick or treating.
- Do not permit any child to carry a lighted candle.
- Restrict trick or treating to the immediate neighborhood.
- Most important of all, accompany your children through the neighborhood since children may easily be abducted or attacked if not accompanied by an adult.

GOP Wants Telephone Volunteers

Telephone workers are badly needed during the final few days of the 1964 presidential campaign. That's the word sent out from the Palos Verdes headquarters of the Citizens for Goldwater-Miller. It's the most important job in the final campaign surge, according to a spokesman for the group. The primary job for the telephone workers will be to contact undecided voters and tell of the Goldwater television schedule. Lists of undecided voters have been prepared and are waiting for telephone workers, says Mrs. Fern Lester, office manager. The headquarters is located at 27715 Silver Spur Road. Mrs. Lester said those interested in the "blitz" campaign could work out of the headquarters or from their homes. Interested persons may visit the headquarters or call FR 7-8906.

She Works Hard for Fund Drive

Mrs. Robert Thomas, 17020 Delia St., is a volunteer's volunteer! Whenever there is money to be raised and then some, to be raised, Mrs. Thomas does her part and then some. Mrs. Kenneth Uyeda, Torrance chairman for the United Crusade, said. To date, Mrs. Thomas has completed 36 assignments—which means she has walked at least 36 blocks ringing doorbells on behalf of the United Crusade. Mrs. Thomas credits her success to the fact that she does her blockwork in the evening when more people are at home. But she also adds there's a man who helps. Mr. Thomas has accompanied his wife on almost every call she's made!

New Class Will Help Job Hunters

Larry Deti, work experience coordinator for West High, will conduct a pre-Christmas sales training class for students who are interested in working during the Christmas holidays. The course will begin Monday. Local merchants and businessmen will cooperate with the school in aiding students who complete the course to find work for the holiday season. The class will cover such topics as applying for a job, developing a good business personality, writing sales checks, operating cash registers, and wrapping packages. Students who successfully complete the course and secure a vacation job will be released for school in the afternoons during the week prior to Christmas recess to work during the shopping rush.
