

Do You Want to Pay New State Tax? Solon Asks

By CHARLES E. CHAPEL
 Assemblyman, 46th District
 New California state taxes are highly recommended by several very influential members of the California Legislature. These same statements also release statements to the press that they believe it may be necessary to increase the State income by raising the taxes already breaking the backs of California residents.

Other California legislators come right out in a bold, forthright manner and say that we must have some brand new taxes, and higher existing taxes, whether we like it or not.

These two groups of State legislators have two things in common: (1) They were too busy working hard for their constituents to give us the bad news before they were certain they were elected or re-elected; and (2) They justify their statements by saying that the State must collect more money from its people in order to balance the great, big, swollen budget which will be offered to the Legislature early in 1965.

SOMETIMES the things which people do not say are more important than the things they say. A good example of this ancient truth is the simple fact that one way to eliminate the need for either new taxes or higher existing taxes is to cut the big, bad budget which will be presented to the legislature in 1965. Of course one problem is the determination of which portions of the budget are fat meat and which items are lean meat.

When you come right down to earth and examine the whole problem of taxes and budgets you will find that legislators, whether they are city councilmen, county supervisors, state legislators, or members of the Congress of the United States of America, are always under some kind of pressure from their constituents to vote for a budget which includes their pet projects.

FOR EXAMPLE, one man recently wrote to me at Post Office Box 327, Redondo Beach, and said that he does not want me to vote for a swollen budget because that would force the Legislature to increase his taxes, but he is extremely anxious for me to use my unmost influence to place in the budget an item costing about ten million dollars. He wants that money used to build a new golf course so that he can get exercise by riding around the proposed golf course in his little buggy, which is operated by a two-cylinder internal-combustion engine, burning cheap gasoline which he buys at cut-rate gas stations that give green stamps. He is the thrifty type.

This letter impressed me because it was typed on paper having what the printers call "50 per cent rag content." Also, his name, title, and address on his letter was produced by engraving and not by embossing, or ordinary printing. Unfortunately, for my thrifty constituent, I am not going to vote in 1965, or in any other year, for that golf course he wants. Already, I have told him personally what I think of his impressive letter.

THANKSGIVING DAY this year is Thursday, Nov. 26. It is a national and State holiday. According to a legend, perpetuated in some history books, it originated in Plymouth Colony on some day in December, 1621, but actually somewhat similar celebrations existed all over the world so far back in time that no reliable historian attempts to even guess at the year during which it began. However, we do know that days of thanksgiving dedicated to heathen, pagan gods, were celebrated long before Moses brought the Ten Commandments down from Mount Sinai.

President George Washington in 1789 issued the first presidential proclamation in honor of God and the Constitution of the United States. President Abraham Lincoln, on Oct. 3, 1863, designated the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving Day. Each succeeding president made similar proclamations until President Franklin D. Roosevelt, set the fourth Thursday of November as a day of religious observance, set apart for the citizens of the United States to give thanks to Almighty God, the Creator of the Universe, for our many blessings.

Presidents Truman, Eisenhower, and Kennedy did not move the day for giving thanks to God. Let us hope that President Johnson follows their example. Finally, please remember that Thanksgiving Day always has been primarily a religious holiday (holy day), although it also is a day celebrated by many people by eating too much, drinking too much, crashing into one another on the freeways, and otherwise having what they think is fun. May you have a reverent, safe, sane, and sober Thanksgiving Day!

JA Firms To Begin Production

Junior Achievement companies in the southwest area are offering the discriminating buyer this year the widest range of products ever produced at the Southwest Business Center.

Everything from bamboo wind chimes for the insomniac to styrofoam Christmas trees is being manufactured and sold by more than 600 teen-agers operating 29 JA companies.

Junior Achievement's eight-month program of economic education started this year Oct. 12. Since then, each fledgling firm has applied for an operating charter, selected a company name, decided on a product, sold sufficient stock to meet their initial capital needs, leased the necessary tools and equipment and purchased raw materials to start production.

Most JA companies will have products for sale within the next few days so that they can take advantage of the big Christmas market.

Some of the other products manufactured by this year's JA companies include: coasters, magnetic message boards, ornamental fishes, chip and dip bowls, flower arrangements, Christmas candle sets, Christmas wreaths, desk pen sets, plastic trivets, slicing boards, whisk brooms and key holders.

Most companies will rely on door-to-door sales but a few are hoping to negotiate big wholesale deals.

Each Junior Achievement company is counseled by a local enterprise which provides at least three advisors for guidance on business, sales and production.
