Dogpatch Folk Cavort At ECC for Two Shows

Will Daisy Mae catch Lil Southwood as Pappy Yukum, Abner?
This almost-ageless question of the famed Al Capp cartoon strip is repeated again on the stage at El Camino College, Friday and Saturday with the presentation of the Bluth Bros. Theater production of the original musical comedy.
Written by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank, with lyrics by Johnny Mercer and music by Gene De Paul, the musical supports a cast of more than 30 characters who sing and dance their way through 20 musical numbers.
Leads for the play are carried by young, musical comedy stars Jack Edwards, Lil Abner; Maggie Montgomery, Daisy Mae; Virginia Rae, Mammy Yokum and Bill
IT IS SUSPECTED that the villain of the piece will be Earthquake McGoon, helped along by Romeo Scragg and his fearsome brothers, but real scoundrels are ard to find among Capp's characters.
Directed by Fred Bluth, with musical direction by Don Bluth, the production is the follow-up of their previous production of Meredith Willson's "Music Man."
The El Camino presentation of Bluth's "Music Man" played before a standing room only audience.
Tickets are available at the student store in the Campus Center at El Camino College. Reserved seats are $1.50. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.
