Professor Miller Now Recovering

Julius Sumner Miller, El Camino College physics instructor and internationally known lecturer, was removed from the critical list at Centinela Valley Community Hospital early Friday. Miller was hospitalized last Sunday afternoon following a posterior myocardial infarction. He was listed as critical when he entered the hospital. Still in the intensive care unit of the hospital, Miller is awaiting assignment to a regular room. His condition is still listed as "serious," according to an El Camino College spokesman. A lecturer, teacher, and television performer, Miller has traveled extensively and lectured in the world's finest universities. He also is a featured performer on the Walt Disney "Mouseketeer" program. El Camino College physicians said the instructor would be absent from the campus for at least a month. He was scheduled to lecture in Sydney, Australia. Miller resides at 16711 Cranbrook Ave.
